MAYOR WILL NOT RUN FOR FIFTH TERM

Mr. J. Carl Pendray Announces Determination to Retire in Interests of His Private Business

LEAVES AFTER LONG TERM OF SERVICE

Withdrawal Leaves Only One Member of Present Council Announced as Candidate for Mayoralty

PRESSED by many citizens to seek re-election at the polls in the orthcoming civic election, Mayor J. arl Pendray gave the matter his epest consideration and announced esterday that he would not be a ndidate this year.

Mayor Pendray has served the ity as chief magistrate for four ears, and in announcing his deci- on yesterday, said that private usiness urged him to relinquish is duties.

Mr. Pendray is the second citizen hold office for four years in suc- ssion. The late John Grant was e only other to serve for so long d unbroken a period. He held ice from 1888 to the end of 1891.

To Mayor Morely, however, goes e longest term of service as ayor. He served the city for five ars. He was elected in 1906 and 07. He was defeated in 1908 and 09, but again elected in 1910. He as returned twice during 1911 when o elections were held. He was efeated again in 1912 and returned ice in 1913.

As chairman of the police com- ission for four years, Mayor Pen- ay has helped to mold the policy police administration, supporting ommissioner Walter E. Staneland his move to regulate traffic in is city and minimize the number automobile accidents.

"I have accomplished all I set out do. I believe that I have given ictoria a start industrially by pur- ing my policy in that direction," e mayor stated. "I have done my most to curtail expenditures and ereby lessen the tax burden upon e property holders. I have made sincere attempt in every way to rry out an efficient and economic iministration, and decline to seek election, with the confidence that have at least given my best en- avor in materializing the platform which I was elected four years go."

Mayor Pendray's withdrawal from e mayoralty contest leaves but e member of the present council finitely announced as candidate mayor, Alderman P. R. Brown.

Ireland Making Good Progress Speaker States

VANCOUVER, Sept. 13.—"We are good neighbors. We want to remain good neighbors," T. J. O'Connell, chairman of the Parliamentary Labor party in the Irish Free State, said at the Canadian Club lunch here today in speaking of relations between England and Ireland. There was, he said, no desire in the Irish Free State to return to the political conditions prior to five years ago. There had been more agricultural economic development in the last five years in Ireland than in fifty years of government under the British Parliament. Ireland wanted to develop her own national ideas and there was nothing incongruous in Irish nationality and belonging to the great family of nations which comprised the British Commonwealth.

VICTORIANS WILL ATTEND BIG PARLEY

Mr. Justice M. A. Macdonald and Mr. P. B. Fowler Leave Tomorrow for Foreign Trade Meeting

CANADIAN VIEWS TO BE PRESENTED

The Pacific Foreign Trade Council will hold its sixth annual convention next week in Los Angeles. The gathering, which will be attended by leaders in commerce and industry from the principal cities of the Pacific Coast, will be presided over by Mr. William Pigott, of Seattle, president of the organization.

Hon. Mr. Justice M. A. Macdonald, of the British Columbia Court of Appeal, and Mr. P. B. Fowler, manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce and president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, will leave Victoria tomorrow afternoon for Seattle, en route to attend the Los Angeles parley, which will take place on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, September 18, 19 and 20.

Mr. Fowler will represent the Canadian Bank of Commerce, the local Chamber of Commerce and the Vancouver Board of Trade; and Mr. Justice Macdonald will present to Americans of the West the viewpoints of Western Canadians on matters of concern to both nations.

As a guest of honor at a luncheon which will be given by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce on September 19, Mr. Fowler will give an address on the theme, "British Columbia's Part in the Foreign Trade of the Pacific Coast."

Mr. Justice Macdonald will be the honor guest and principal speaker at a convention banquet which will be held on the night of September 19, at which Mr. Douglas Fairbanks, famous motion picture star, will officiate as toastmaster.

California's welcome to the Pacific Foreign Trade Council delegates will be given by Governor C. C. Young, and Los Angeles' chief executive, Mayor George E. Cryer, will present the visitors with the "keys of the city." The opening address on the topic, "Teamwork in Foreign Trade," will be delivered by President William Pigott.

Other discourses which will be heard by the delegates will be: "Trade Potentialities of the Pacific Area," by Mr Henry F. Grady, dean of the College of Commerce, University of California; "Education and Foreign Trade," by Dr. R. B. von Kleinsmidt, president of the University of Southern California; "Motion Pictures as a Factor in Foreign Trade," by Mr. George Kates, foreign representative of the Paramount-Famous-Lasky Corporation; "Building Business through Pacific Ports," by Mr. Paul Shoup, executive vice-president, Southern Pacific Company; and "Building Business on Foreign Credits," by Mr. J. H. Tregoe, dean of American credit authorities.

PRAIRIE PLANE EXPRESS TESTED

Experimental Flight From Winnipeg to Calgary—Thick Fogs Delay Arrival

REGINA, Sept. 13.—After being twice held up by thick fogs in Manitoba, the Western Canada Airways' twelve-passenger De Havilland plane arrived here tonight at 5:10, overdue since noon. F. Hedley Auld officially welcomed Premier Bracken, who made the flight this far.

Pilot W. L. Brintnell told The Canadian Press tonight that the flight was not the commencement of a Winnipeg-Regina-Calgary passenger-express service. Rather it was in the nature of a trial spin. He expected, however, that a regular service would be begun at the end of the month.

The plane will leave for Calgary tomorrow.

Due to the delay occasioned by fog, Premier Bracken was unable to continue the trip and left tonight for Winnipeg, returning home.

TORNADO KILLS SIX

DAKOTA CITY, Neb., Sept. 13.—At least six persons were killed and more than a score injured by a tornado which cut a narrow ribbon through Northeastern Nebraska late this afternoon. Twenty houses and the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad depot were either wrecked or entirely blown away here.

RADIO SHOW AGAIN WINS ADMIRATION

Mayor Pendray Officiates at Fifth Exhibition Organized by Victoria Radio Club

EQUIPMENT SHOWN OF MODERN TYPE

Dealers and Distributors Vie With One Another to Provide Display of Latest Supplies

AMID the bright surroundings provided by nearly a score of gaily and tastefully caparisoned stalls, the fifth show by the Victoria Radio Club was opened last evening by Mayor Pendray, in the lower hall of the Crystal Garden. The hall lent itself admirably to the show, and housed without crowding an excellent show, one of the best ever held in the province, and one which was unique in the varied character and the extreme up-to-dateness of the models shown, some of which have not yet been offered for sale in the advertisements of the dealers. All displays were good, and four firms of distributors had joined the dealers in going to a considerable amount of pains to make the show the success it undoubtedly will be at its conclusion on Saturday night.

Mayor Pendray, in opening the show, made his first public announcement of the fact that he would not again seek civic office, and that he would soon retire to his business, appreciating the kindness and co-operation he had received while serving the city during the past four years.

This announcement arose from the remark of Mr. Harold Grant, president of the Radio Club, that Mayor Pendray had opened three of their shows and, it was hoped, would open others in the future.

Mr. Grant referred to the gratitude they felt towards the authorities for their help in securing radio conditions which were good, especially when compared with those prevailing in other cities.

The show was well attended, and there were large groups round the various booths awaiting the opening ceremony, and a tremendous amount of interest was apparent from the keenness with which the exhibits were examined, and the demonstrators plied with queries.

COWICHAN FALL FAIR IS HELD

EXHIBITION WILL DRAW MANY PEOPLE TO DUNCAN TODAY AND TOMORROW

Sheep and Jersey Cattle Will Be Livestock Features—Competitions for Logging Industry

The Cowichan Fall Fair will be held today and tomorrow at Duncan. The official opening will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow, the ceremony being performed by Mr. C. H. Dickie, M.P., for the riding. There are log-chopping and sawing contests during the afternoon, and a dance at night. The band of the Sixteenth Canadian Scottish Battalion will play selections in the grounds and at the dance.

In livestock the chief features will be the sheep show and the display of Jersey cattle. Entries were reported last evening from Duncan to maintain a high average.

The following judges have been appointed: Fruit and vegetables, Mr. C. R. Barlow, district field inspector, Saimon Arm, and Mr. E. W. White, district horticulturist, Victoria; field crops, Mr. J. B. Munro, Department of Agriculture, Victoria; cattle, Mr. W. McIntyre, Sardis, and Mr. H. L. Steves, Stevesston; sheep, Mr. G. C. Hay, South Vancouver; dairy products, Mr. W. Hagger, Dominion Department of Agriculture; domestic science, Mrs. P. Lindsay, Brentwood; honey, Mr. W. J. Sheppard, Department of Agriculture, Victoria; children's classes, Mr. A. C. Stewart, Victoria; Mr. J. Kyle, Victoria; poultry, Mr. J. R. Terry, Victoria; photographs, Mr. H. Tyzack, Victoria.

VANCOUVER KIWANIS WANT REFORMATION

VANCOUVER, Sept. 13. — Immediate action to insure sane, clean, honest and intelligent administration in city police affairs is demanded by members of the Kiwanis Club of Vancouver, and requests will be sent to the City Council, the police commission and the Attorney-General, requesting that these officials take action as a result of the report of Commissioner Lennie, who conducted the recent police inquiry.

This decision was reached Thursday noon, when members of the club held a closed luncheon.

BRITISH DELEGATES CONFER

GENEVA, Sept. 13.—A private meeting of British, including Dominion, delegates at the Assembly of the League of Nations was held yesterday, it is learned, when the question of disarmament was discussed.

Parliamentarian Officiates at Ceremony

United Church Accepts Ordination of Women As Right in Principle

WINNIPEG, Sept. 13.—Until the committee on law gives a ruling on the word "men" in the Constitution of the United Church of Canada, ordination of women to the eldership in the church will not be permitted. This was decided at tonight's session of the General Council, when the report of the ordination committee was submitted by Mrs. Nellie McClung, of Calgary.

The General Council, by adopting the report of the committee, however, put itself on record as declaring "that there is no bar in religion or reason to ordination of women to the ministry," but decided to take no action on this question at the present time.

The report of the ordination committee reads:

"It is recommended that the General Council put itself on record as holding that there is no bar, in religion or reason, to the ordination of women to the ministry, and that the council remit to the committee on law the question of ordination of women to eldership, to determine whether the word 'men' in the basis of union, may be legally held, in this regard, to include women, or to devise means whereby the needed change can, under the Barrier Act, be made."

PASSED UNANIMOUSLY

The motion to adopt the recommendations was made by Rev. Dr. T. Scott, of Hamilton, and Rev. Neill Campbell, of Hamilton, and it was unanimously passed.

Mrs. McClung, in presenting the report, said that it seemed an anomaly that this question should be decided wholly by men. She thought the statement of the committee was not a very heroic one and did not think it would take fifty years to secure the result in view. She stated that only twelve of the

POLICE BOARD MEMBER WILL ATTEND TRIAL

City Commission to Secure Information of Bracken-Marshall Criminal Libel Suit in Vancouver

FULL REPORT TO BE GIVEN BOARD

One of Victoria's police commissioners, to be named by the Mayor, will attend the trial of Robert Bracken, publisher, and Edward Marshall, editor, of Information, a Vancouver publication, at the Assizes in Vancouver next month, and will bring back a report of the case to the City Police Commission here.

This decision was made by the City Police Commission at its meeting here yesterday. Bracken and Marshall are facing a charge of criminal libel, the outcome of proceedings instituted against them by Detectives Phipps and Rogers, of Victoria, who were specifically alluded to in the alleged libelous story appearing in the August 11 issue of Information under the caption, "The Capital Infested." Serious charges were made in the article against the Victoria police and the two detectives in particular.

Police Commissioner Walter E. Staneland sponsered the proposal that a member of the police commission should be authorized to attend the trial of Bracken and Marshall in Vancouver, and should bring back a full report to the commission.

SERIOUS MATTER

"We should have first-hand information of what takes place at the trial. If conditions are such as reported in Information, we should seriously consider the matter," Mr. Staneland said.

Mr. Staneland said that while newspaper reports of the trial would doubtless be splendid, he believed at the same time the board should have a representative of its own at the hearing. It would be cheaper to send one of the commissioners over to the trial than to obtain a transcript of the evidence.

"I think the plaintiffs in the case should seek a change of venue of the trial from Vancouver to Victoria so that the commission and the citizens of Victoria generally who are interested should hear the proceedings and know whether the city is in as bad a state as has been alleged," the commissioner said.

Mayor J. Carl Pendray and Commissioner William White heartily agreed with Commissioner Staneland's suggestion that a member of the police commission attend the trial.

The appointment of the commissioner to watch the Bracken-Marshall trial in Vancouver was left in the hands of the mayor.

To File Appeal Against Verdict Of Water Board

VANCOUVER, Sept. 13.—F. A. McDiarmid, counsel for the Corporation of Grand Forks, in the West Kootenay power dispute, leaves tomorrow morning for Victoria, to file an appeal from the recent decision of the Water Board, that it has no jurisdiction over rates in territory outside the boundaries set out in the company's licence.

Mr. McDiarmid's appeal will be made to the Minister of Lands on the same grounds as he fought the case before the board.

PROMINENT MEN ARE ROUTED HERE

Under Secretary of State for Dominions Will Arrive on Monday to Await Steamer

Admiral Sir Dudley de Chair, Governor of New South Wales, is expected to arrive on the liner Niagara this morning from his post at Sydney, N.S.W.

Among prominent people due in the course of the next few days are the Duke of Newcastle, who has been making a leisurely tour across Canada, and Lord Lovat, Under-Secretary of State for the Dominions, who has been in Canada for some weeks looking into the immigration question in his capacity as chairman of the Empire Settlement committee. Lord Lovat is due here on Monday next.

Next week on the outgoing steamer to Australia will be the New Zealand bowlers, for whom a programme is being prepared here, and the Scottish-Australian tour of 122 persons, routed home after a prolonged tour in the Old Country.

Australian politicians who have been touring this Summer are hurrying home for the forthcoming general election, and it is expected that the Australian members of the Empire Parliamentary Association who were here on Tuesday and Wednesday will cut short the balance of their Canadian itinerary and join the steamer at Vancouver for home.

Parliamentarians to Visit Okanagan Next

VERNON, Sept. 13.—Members of the British Empire Parliamentary Association party will visit the Okanagan Valley Saturday morning. The morning will be spent at Kelowna and after a luncheon tendered by the Board of Trade they will be driven to Vernon. They will be shown over this end of the valley and tendered a banquet in the Court House at 7 o'clock leaving here at 10.

CENSURED FOR MINERS COMING

TORONTO LABOR CONGRESS DENOUNCES BRINGING OF BRITISH HARVESTERS

Governments, Railways and Steamship Companies Condemned in Strong Language

TORONTO, Sept. 13. — Strong condemnation of the movement of British miners to Canada for harvest work was voiced by the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada at today's session of its forty-fourth convention. A special committee, appointed at the beginning of the convention to deal with immigration, brought in its report today and coupled a reaffirmation of Labor's immigration platform with a denunciation of the importation of harvest labor. "No language is too strong," the report declares, "to denounce the bringing here of men ostensibly for farm labor so late in the year, when they are certain to compete with men already here for the few jobs available in the Winter."

Air Mail Routes To Come Shortly Ottawa Expects

OTTAWA, Sept. 13.—Institution of air mail routes between Montreal and Toronto and between Winnipeg and Calgary may be expected shortly, officials of the Air Board indicate. Daily test flights are being made between Montreal and Toronto and a schedule is at present under preparation, it is said. A saving of nearly eighteen hours in mail to and from the Pacific Coast is promised when the route between Winnipeg and Calgary is inaugurated.

Newfoundland Making Substantial Progress

VANCOUVER, Sept. 13.—"Newfoundland is now on the up grade. There is no boom, our progress is substantial and continued, though moderate. The country possesses almost inexhaustible resources," declared Sir Patrick T. McGrath, president of the Legislative Council of Newfoundland, when he addressed a meeting here tonight, under the auspices of the Newfoundland Association of British Columbia.

DUKE OF NEWCASTLE ARRIVES ON COAST

VANCOUVER, Sept. 13.—Casual comparisons between agriculture in Canada and Britain are being made by the Duke of Newcastle, who, with his daughter, Lady Mary Hope, is a visitor in Vancouver on his first trip to the Dominion.

The Duke has been much too busy enjoying a real holiday to pay much attention to matters political, financial, or industrial in Canada. He is delighted with what he has seen, and finds little to complain about. He plans to visit Victoria and will return here en route to Banff. He and his daughter will then go to New York en route to England. Lord Pelham-Clinton Hope, the Duke's son, made a trip through Canada last year.

FINED FOR FIRE

ROCK CREEK, B.C., Sept. 13.—Charged with burning slash without a permit, Werner Preitham appeared before the local justice of the peace here and was fined $25 and costs.

PLANE FLIES ACROSS NORTH AMERICA IN TWENTY-FOUR HOURS

Goebel Flies From New York to Los Angeles in Less Than One Day—Leads at Finish of Nonstop Race Across United States—Other Planes Forced Down

Had to Fight Whole of Way With Bad Head Winds and Rain Storms

LOS ONGELES, Sept. 13.—A. T. Goebel, of Los Angeles, today won the transcontinental nonstop air race from New York to Los Angeles. He brought his white Lockheed Vega plane to a landing at Mines Field here at 3:22 p.m., Pacific Time. He had been in the air since 3:30 p.m., or approximately 23 hours and 50 minutes. Flying low at first over the finish line, where $22,500 in prizes had been hung up, Goebel circled the field and made a rather rough landing in front of the four big grandstands erected for the carnival.

FIGHT ALL THE WAY

Goebel, "dog tired," climbed slowly from his oil-streaked monoplane. With Harry Tucker, his backer and passenger on the overnight flight, Goebel was led to the announcer's platform.

"We had to fight all the way," Goebel gasped out. He blamed the failure on a faulty carburetor which, he said, shot gasoline into the air instead of into the motor during much of his night of battling with strong head winds and rainstorms.

One door had been torn from the monoplane. Tucker had opened it to hurl out an empty gas can and the wind ripped it from his hands, breaking two cabin windows and punching holes in the fuselage. The door was torn from its hinges and hurled into the night.

Five of the nine starters were forced out of the race last night and early today, one in a serious crash. Of the three other contestants still in the race early today, two were reported being forced down this afternoon.

FORMER ADVENTURES

By winning the nonstop flight westward, Goebel hung up his third major aerial record. He was winner of the Dole race from the Pacific coast of California to Hawaii, and holder of the previous transcontinental record, having been the first person to negotiate a nonstop flight from the Pacific Coast to the Eastern coast.

He clipped approximately three hours from the previous record for a flight from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Lieutenants Okley G. Kelley and John A. Macready, in 1923, made the only other successful westward nonstop transcontinental hop. They flew from Hempstead, N.Y., to San Diego, Cal., in 26 hours 50 minutes 38 seconds.

Montreal Chief Is Reinstated; Then He Resigns

MONTREAL, Sept. 13. — Pierre Belanger, Chief of Police of Montreal, today was reinstated after a week's suspension and cleared of any connection with alleged police irregularities. Immediately upon his reinstatement Chief Belanger submitted his resignation, effective immediately, and will receive a pension.

William Legatt, deputy chief and for the past week acting chief of police, today resigned after declining an invitation to reorganize the force.

His resignation was also effective immediately, and he was granted a pension. Inspector Langevin, Eastern division, was appointed chief of police, pro tem., with carte blanche to reorganize the department and orders to produce results.

STATES HIT BY 2 TORNADOES

AT LEAST EIGHT LIVES LOST IN NEBRASKA AND FOUR IN SOUTH DAKOTA

Many Persons Injured — Buildings and Livestock Destroyed in Large Numbers

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—At least twelve persons were killed, scores were injured and many farm buildings blown away or demolished by two tornadoes which swept across portions of Nebraska and South Dakota late today. Crippled communication made an accurate check-up of the total damage difficult. Eight lives were lost in the Nebraska twister, which first struck near Pender, eighty miles northeast of Omaha, and cut a narrow swath reaching almost to Sioux City, Ia. Twenty houses and the Chicago & Northwestern depot at Dakota City, Neb., were wrecked or blown away as the tornado traveled in a northeasterly direction.

SCHOOL HIT

Two children were killed and twenty-five other school pupils injured when the wind demolished a country school near Walthill, Neb. At Fordyce, Neb., several buildings were wrecked and three persons injured, as the storm neared Sioux City, Ia. It had spent its fury, although a funnel-shaped cloud was visible from there.

Four were killed in the South Dakota tornado, which ended a day of sultry heat and cut a path one mile wide and twelve miles long in Yankton county. Scores of farm buildings and hundreds of head of livestock were destroyed as the storm cut northeasterly from a point eight miles from Yankton. Severe damage was reported in numerous villages along the path of the storm.

GODFREY ARRIVES AT FRASER LAKE

FRASER LAKE, B.C., Sept. 13.—Squadron Leader A. E. Godfrey, flying a Fairchild monoplane, arrived here shortly after 4 o'clock this afternoon from Prince Rupert.

Wing Commanders L. F. Breadner and Lindsay Gordon, of Ottawa, and Sergt.-Major Graham, mechanic, accompanied Major Godfrey. If weather conditions permit, the flight will be continued eastward tomorrow.

Sir Austen Chamberlain Says He Fully Expects to Take Up Work Again With Renewed Health

THINKS NAVAL PACT IS MISUNDERSTOOD

LONDON, Sept. 13.—Sir Austen Chamberlain, British Foreign Minister, was quoted in an interview cabled from Bermuda yesterday as saying that he fully expected to resume his office when he returns home in November from his present sea voyage in search of health.

Sir Austen thought that owing to his illness his speech in the House of Commons on the Franco-British naval accord was too brief. He ascribed misunderstandings that have arisen respecting that accord to this circumstance.

Prince George Sees Stunts as Hollywood Guest

(Copyright, 1928, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 13. — His forty-eight hours' leave from his ship over, Prince George said farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks and motored to Santa Barbara.

The King and Queen of Movieland treated Prince George to some honors not accorded to other Hollywood visitors. He saw Douglas Fairbanks do some stunts that only the inside ring of the studio are permitted to witness. Jumping through glass doors was one of them, which thrilled the Prince immensely.

A special scene, with Marguerite De La Motte and Fairbanks, was staged for the Prince at the studio shortly after his arrival there yesterday afternoon, and an informal rodeo, staged by two hundred cowboys at work in the picture, proved a knockout.

FOOD BY PLANE FOR FAR NORTH

Prospectors on Northwestern Shore of Hudson Bay Face Hunger —Schiller to Fly

OTTAWA, Sept. 13.—The suspension of the pilot's licence of C. A. "Duke" Schiller has been lifted by the Department of National Defence in order to enable him to fly with food to prospectors on the northwestern shores of Hudson Bay. The suspension was raised at the request of the Northern Aerial Minerals Exploration Co., an aerial prospecting and transporting company of Toronto and Sioux Lookout.

Schiller, the company urged, was the only man it had to take food to its field forces, who were in danger unless relief was rushed to them. He will set out from Sioux Lookout as soon as possible.

LOSS OF LIFE IN HURRICANE NOT KNOWN

West Indies Tempest Still Raging—Capital of Porto Rica in Darkness—Most Streets Impassable

DAMAGE TO CITY ABOUT $2,000,000

SAN JUAN, Porto Rica, Sept. 13.—Damage approximating $2,000,000 is believed to have been caused in this city by a tropical hurricane which struck here early this morning, and late tonight still was raging.

The wind reached its highest strength at about 2:30 this afternoon. Just before that time the weather bureau's anemometer registered 132 miles an hour, but the instrument was carried away by the force of the gale. The wind blew more than 100 miles an hour for five or six hours, and is believed at times to have attained a speed of 150 miles an hour.

Tonight the city was in darkness and completely isolated from the rest of the island, all telegraph and telephone lines being down and transportation, even about the street, here being stopped. It is not known what is the extent of injuries or loss of life.

B.C. MUNICIPAL UNION ACTIVE

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED AT FINAL SESSION — MANY RESOLUTIONS

Proposal Made to Raise Fund for Expenses in Securing Needed Legislation

TRAIL, B.C., Sept. 13.—Alderman C. H. Bridgeman, of North Vancouver, a member for eighteen years was elected president of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities at the closing session of the gathering today. Reeve Tom Reid, of Surrey, the retiring president, was elected honorary life president with a permanent seat on the executive, this being only the second time such an honor had been conferred by the union.

Other officers were elected as follows: Vice-presidents, Mayor T. A. Love, Grand Forks, and Mayor F. A. Busby, Nanaimo; secretary-treasurer, Mayor A. Wellis Gray, M.P.P., New Westminster (re-elected for his thirteenth successive term); solicitor, George E. Martyn, New Westminster; executive, Reeve D. Poppy, Reeve J. W. Miller of Richmond, Mayor H. Clark of Trail, Comptroller A. J. Pilkington of Vancouver, Reeve W. Crouch of Saanich, Clerk R. F. Blandy of Oak Bay, and Reeve J. B. Martyn of Maple Ridge.

The union decided unanimously to hold its next meeting at Harrison Hot Springs, in the district of Kent. An invitation was extended by Rev. John McRae and Miss Marguerite Degusiem, manager of the Hot Springs Hotel.

Mayor D. W. Sutherland of Kelowna put in a bid for the 1929 convention.

TRUCK LICENCES

A proposal from Ladysmith for enabling a municipality to collect licence fees from truck owners for collecting, in addition to for delivering, which is possible at present, was endorsed on the understanding that it will not mean an additional fee to those now licensed to deliver.

Recommendations of the Corporation of British Columbia Land Surveyors for wider and regularly placed main highways and wider and fewer intersections of main highways were referred to the incoming executive.

Fernie's proposal that municipal councils be given power of approval before division of a lot can be registered was endorsed.

CONCILIATION BOARDS

At the request of the civic employees and fire fighters' unions, it was decided to ask the Government to enact legislation providing for conciliation boards in wage and similar disputes with municipalities.

The Industrial Disputes Act of Canada did not apply to municipalities, it was pointed out.

Burnaby contributed to the gaiety of the convention by raising the question of a man who advertised that he conducted a private school and who sent the twenty-five pupils he accumulated to public school in Burnaby. The convention referred this case to the school trustees' organization.

OLD AGE PENSIONS

By a vote of about sixty to ten, the convention rejected a proposal to press on the Federal Government a scheme for universal old age pensions for those arrived at sixty-five years.

Mayor D. W. Sutherland of Kelowna summarized some of the comment by remarking that this was asking the Dominion to assume a new burden of $240,000,000 annually, or more than twice the interest on the war debt.

Victoria recommended the adoption of a new form of municipal ballot whereby the ballots for mayor, aldermen, school trustees, police commissioners and by-laws would be clipped together and cast in one booth. It saved money to the municipality, time to the voter and insured a more representative vote, urged Alderman W. Marchant. The union decided to ask for permissive legislation allowing councils to adopt the new ballot if they see fit.

$10,000 FUND

As a sequel to the demand made for a public utilities commission, Reeve Crouch of Saanich asked the Union of British Columbia Municipalities today to take steps to raise a legal fund of $10,000 to enable the executive to fight issues that arise in the Legislature or to contest rate disputes with utility corporations.

Secretary A. Wellis Gray, in supporting the proposals, said that officers of the union were often compelled through lack of funds to go to Victoria at their own expense. It was decided to ask the delegates to ascertain the views of their respective councils on the proposal.

Reeve Crouch said that the cost was well worth while to the municipalities in order to fight their battles with the big corporations collectively.

ARTERIAL PLAN IS SUCCESSFUL

ACCIDENTS REDUCED SINCE SYSTEM PUT INTO EFFECT, POLICE REPORT SHOWS

Commission Asks Council to Make Johnson Street and Esquimalt Road an Arterial Highway

The City Police Commission decided at its meeting yesterday to ask the City Council to make Johnson Street and Esquimalt Road, from Wharf Street to the city limits, an arterial highway.

The reeve and council of Saanich will be invited by the commission to take action to make the following roads arterial highways: Gorge Road from the city limits to the Craigflower Bridge; Quadra Street from the city limits to the northern limits of Saanich municipality.

Mr. T. Harvey Bamford, secretary of the commission, was instructed to write the reeve and council of Oak Bay thanking them for their prompt action in establishing arterial highways to connect with the city's system.

Police Commissioner Walter E. Staneland, who sponsored the above thre suggestions, stated that the monthly report of the city police department still continued to show a reduction in the number of accidents and fewer persons injured here.

"If you look over the reports you will notice that fewer accidents have occurred at intercommunicating streets since the arterial highway system was put into effect than formerly was the case," Mr. Staneland remarked, in referring to the successful operation of the arterial highway plan.

NOTARIES PUBLIC ELECT EXECUTIVE

VANCOUVER, Sept. 13.—Delegates from Vancouver Island and other parts of the province attended the third annual meeting of the Society of Notaries Public of British Columbia, held in Vancouver this week. E. E. Hand, of Vancouver, was elected president, to succeed Jack Loutet, of North Vancouver. Vice-presidents for the coming year are: H. E. Dill, of Nelson; J. Islay Mutter, of Duncan, and H. E. McVity, of Revelstoke.

The following directors were chosen: Murdock Campbell, H. J. Cave, A. J. Ford, H. Hargeaves, E. W. Reeve, Vancouver; Lewis J. Edwards, Nakusp; H. Pooks, Agassiz; H. Lethaby and F. E. Winslow, Victoria; M. E. Pianta, Nanaimo; E. C. Turner, New Westminster; C. R. Gilbert, Terrace.

CANADA'S APPLE CROP

OTTAWA, Sept. 13.—The Dominion fruit commissioner announces the latest check on the apple crop shows slightly lower production than 1927. This year's latest estimate is 2,965,060 barrels against a five-year average of 3,110,904 barrels, a reduction of 145,844 barrels. In British Columbia there is an increase of thirty-six per cent, but the crop is smaller in Ontario by eighteen per cent, in New Brunswick by twenty per cent, in Quebec by twenty-one per cent, and in Nova Scotia by nine per cent.

Canadian Premier Signing Kellogg Pact

Presbyteries, which made any reply, were decidedly opposed. Out of ninety-two Presbyteries which replied, seventy-six were favorable to the general spirit of the movement. The professions of law and medicine were now open to women. The only profession still closed was theology.

One of the arguments which had to be met, said Mrs. McClung, was the statement that women did not want ordination. Several ministers had told her women in their churches were definitely opposed.

WOMEN WANT IT

"If there are silk-lined women in Eastern churches who are opposed," Mrs. McClung continued, "there are many women in Western Canada who emphatically favor such action."

There was one bright spot in the report, concluded Mrs. McClung. It was admitted that there was no bar to ordination in religion or reason and when this was admitted there was ground for believing that within a reasonable time the request would be granted.

Rev. Dr. J. P. Schlater, of Toronto, supported the report. There had been great changes in the world, especially in regard to the position of women. There was nothing in the nature of things to bar women from ordination. The United Church, he declared, was at present the trustee of union for the whole evangelical church of the world, and it was desirable that all changes made be of an unanimous nature.

LONDON IN 1930

London, Ont., was chosen this afternoon as the next meeting place of the United Church of Canada General Council.

The next conference will be held in September, 1930.

In all probability, the present sessions will terminate Friday night. The secretary of the General Council today outlined the matters still to be discussed and expressed the hope that the business can be completed by that time. The treasurer was authorized to issue cheques in payment of expenses up to Friday night only.

Three Killed by Oil Explosion In California

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 13.—Three men were killed and seven others severely burned when a battery of crude oil stills at the Standard Oil Company refinery at Segundo, near here, exploded and sent blazing oil in all directions.

The three men killed were cleaning around the still when the explosion occurred. The blast shook several neighboring beach towns.

Reformed Episcopal Church Negotiates With United Church

WINNIPEG, Sept. 13.—It was reported today, at the session of the General Council of the United Church of Canada, that conferences have been held with the Synod of the Reformed Episcopal Church in Canada, and that the latter church, under certain conditions, was prepared to recommend union to its congregations with the United Church. The conditions were that the synod be assured of the sympathy of the United Church for the furtherance of its type of worship, wherever opportunity presented itself, and also of the continuance of the episcopate within the group.

It was further revealed that conferences are also being held with a view to union with the Christian Church of Ontario.

Hope that when the bitterness of controversy had subsided it would be possible to approach the continuing Presbyterian Church with suggestions of co-operation and thus avoid unnecessary expenditure of the Lord's money, was expressed by Dr. S. D. Chown, for many years general secretary of the old Methodist Church in Canada. There were thousands of members of noncon-curring churches, he continued, who were perfectly sincere, and it was to be hoped that co-operation could be arranged.

He—You've been out with worse looking fellows than I am, haven't you?

She did not reply.

"I say, you've been out with worse looking chaps than I am, haven't you?"

"I heard you the first time. I was trying to think."

CENSURED FOR MINERS COMING

and the Salvation Army all received criticism in connection with the scheme. William Varley, of Toronto, declared that the persons responsible for the movement were "guilty of a criminal offence in making misrepresentations to induce men to come here."

Political motives, the fear of opposition criticism, and the fear od "propaganda circulated in Great Britain for an ulterior motive that we did not want British immigration led the Federal Government to consent to the miner-harvester immigration," said President Tom Moore.

MINISTER MAKES CHARGE

One event of the session was an address by Hon. Peter Heenan, in which the Minister of Labor charged that there was a well thought out campaign being conducted in Great Britain to stampede the Dominion Government into bringing British unemployed to Canada by the shipload.

The propaganda, said Mr. Heenan, was motivated by the desire of certain interests in the Old Country to solve a political problem, and encouraged by persons in Canada who wanted to flood the labor market and provide ten men for every job. As an instance of the working of the scheme the speaker said advertisements in England were telling the people that coal miners were wanted in Canada at high wages, when, as a matter of fact, there was a surplus of miners in every coal field in the Dominion.

"It's a lie," declared Mr. Heenan, "to say that the British unemployed don't want to work and that they are content to subsist on the dole. They want to work, and so the false reports of lots of work and high wages in Canada are eagerly received.

The Labor Minister defended the movement of British miners to Canada for harvest labor and pointed out that it was separate from the immigration policy generally.

FIRE HAZARD IS CONSIDERED LESS

Protection for Green Timber Held Secure, but Fires in Slashings May Be Expected

Menace to the green timber of the province is believed to be over, with reports of rains being general throughout the province. Forestry Department officials expect that if another dry spell occurs there will be fires in slashings, but standing forests, once dampened, will remain safe until next season.

The department officials report that the loss by fire is less than usual, the most troublesome area being that along the line of the Canadian National Railways, from Jasper to Prince Rupert. It is declared that fires there have been caused chiefly by negligent clearing of land, occasioning serious damage to adjacent forest lands.

RADIO SHOW AGAIN WINS ADMIRATION

It is an entirely up-to-date show, and the section for home-made sets, which used to be a feature, is conspicuous by its absence.

The show is indeed a credit to the club and to Victoria, and the radio men who are over from Vancouver, are all enthusiastic concerning this Victoria effort. Mr. H. J. Cunningham, show manager, and all associated with the arrangements are deserving of hearty congratulations.

Pleasant orchestral music is discoursed by a small ladies' band, known as the Bucklin Trio.

A brief review of the exhibits includes:

WHOLESALE EXHIBITS

Radio Sales, of Vancouver and Victoria, has an interesting exhibit in the balcony of the hall, where can be found a full line of Fada radios and loudspeakers. Much admired by radio enthusiasts is a new Fada "70" eight-tube console with built-in dynamic speaker. This is the first showing of this model anywhere in Canada, and was received by express just a few hours before the show was opened, for which it was especially acquired.

An attractive exhibit by a wholesale house is that of Messrs. Marshall-Wells (B.C.) Ltd., the distributors of the DeForest-Crosley, featuring dynamic speakers throughout a line of handsome sets. Voltage control, calculated to eliminate all tube trouble, is also a feature, and some of the cabinets shown are in futurist design. There is a new metal set with stand and speaker in gilded effect. The new Fidelity series has names in musical terms—"Nocturne," "Concerto," etc. Mr. H. E. Sharp is in charge.

Utilizing the whole of the stage for an extensive exhibit, Messrs. McLennan, McFeeley & Prior, Ltd., has a commanding position in the show, and have a number of newest instruments made by Canadian Westinghouse and Radiola. These include batteryless and battery operated radio, featuring the new Westinghouse consoles. Here is also a line of new Magnavox dynamic speakers. In charge of this large exhibit is Mr. R. Darcus.

At the extreme end of the hall, facing the stage, is a fine exhibit of Kolster radio, presented by Canadian Fairbanks-Morse, of Victoria. The large exhibit is confined to Kolster instruments with Philco batteries, and includes table models and consoles in electric and battery models. There are some artistic speakers, and very intriguing is a demonstration model of a table instrument in a glass case, which enables the working parts to be seen, and which has been brought here from the Toronto Exhibition. Mr. E. R. Etheridge demonstrates the models at this stall.

ATTRACTIVE STALLS

Messrs. Plimley & Ritchie, Ltd., a' their stall, have successfully carried out a bright and artistic effect in which a single model of the new Westinghouse console is set against a softly illuminated background. This handsome model, for which the utmost selectivity and response is claimed, is seen to advantage in this setting. Mr. Gilson Bey is in charge.

The Hudson's Bay Company exhibit is a large and comprehensive one, including a full line of Rogers radios as well as representative models of Fada, Kolster, Radiola and Grimes. The Rogers exhibit includes a fine gramophone and radio combination, and there are the latest types of speakers, including the Jentzen dynamic speaker and others. This exhibit is put on by the display department of the Hudson's Bay Co., and Messrs. J. A. Stables and W. H. Sharpe are in charge.

The Radio-Lectric Company, of 694 View Street, has a large exhibit near the entrance, featuring Marconi, Fada and Radiola. Here can be seen the latest Radiola "60" eight-tube super-hetrodyne, in which an entirely new radio principle is involved, providing an instrument in which reception is extremely selective and sensitive. There is also a new Baldwin speaker with the latest seven-foot exponential horn, giving depth of tone. A full line of Fada A.C. models is also shown. Messrs. H. E. Walton-Smith, Louis H. Sampson, E. Dyson and W. Harkness are in charge.

The Murphy Electric Co., of 722 Yates Street, has an exhibit of American Mohawk and Westinghouse instruments, both table and console models. These well-known lines are attractive in design, and simplicity of operation is a prominent feature.

The C.W. Radio Service Co., Ltd., of 707 Fort Street, is showing Fada and Radiola, an electric six-tube table model, which is included in the last-named line, being remarkable for simplicity of control. Among the Fadas is a table model enclosed in a metal cabinet of handsome design. Mr. E. Young is in charge.

Messrs. G. E. Bonner & Sons, of Yates Street, have an artistically appointed stall, in which is shown one extremely handsome console representative of the well-known Marconi line of instruments handled by this firm.

Fletcher Bros. have a large and attractive stall at which is featured the very line of the new Victor radio. These all-electric plug-in models are of great beauty of design, as are also the Rogers, of which there is a comprehensive line. The models shown include handsome consoles with fine cabinet work, also some luxuriously made combination gramophone and radio models. It is a really handsome stall well lit and tastefully arranged.

At Kent's another large and excellently laid out stall is the new Marconi Therm-ion-ic, as well as examples of Fada, Spartan, Brunswick and Kolster. Kent's are also featuring here an entirely new line which, it is claimed, is going to prove an extremely popular model when, in the near future, it will be officially announced. The feature of this new instrument is that it is equipped with dynamic speaker at low cost. Mr. O. G. Leach is in charge at this stall.

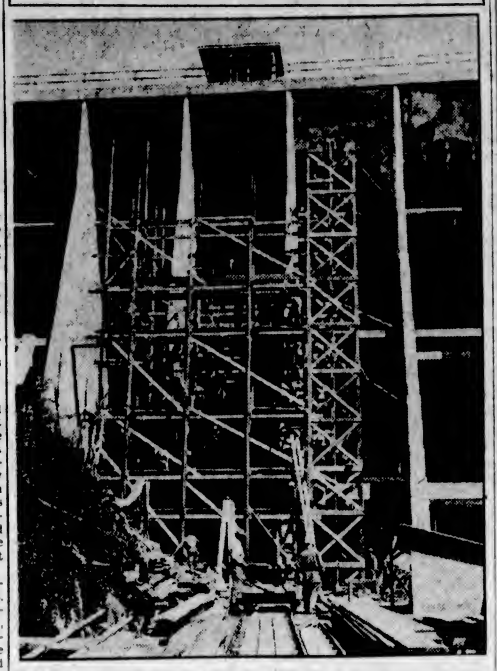

The Radio Shop, of 645 Yates Street has a big array of six-tube Mohawks, including some extremely fine combinations. There is also a varied selection of Baldwin speakers as well as powerful table sets, etc.

H. G. Minty, successor to Minty & White, is showing a line of the Stewart Warner "matched unit" radio.

The Belmont Radio Service, of Yates Street, is showing a series of the well-known Atwater-Kent instruments, which are unique in design and of handsome appearance. Particularly attractive are all-metal table models in varying design and color schemes.

Messrs. Crowther Bros., of 854 Yates Street, have a stall which attracts great interest on account of a display of radio parts and accessories. Here is featured the new Philco radio which, needing no aerial, claims "no bothersome hum."

New Plant at Jordan River

THE above picture illustrates the additional power plant now under construction at Jordan River. This plant is being built within the the face of the main diversion dam, and will utilize the head of water (some eighty feet) stored behind the dam. This picture shows the preliminary stage of construction. It is expected that the plant will be completed and in operation by the end of the present year.

MORE WRECKAGE FROM AMUNDSEN'S AIRPLANE

OSLO, Norway, Sept. 13.—What is believed to be additional wreckage from the plane in which Roald Amundsen and five companions were lost at the start of their attempt to rescue members of the Nobile Arctic Expedition, was found this morning in the southern part of the Strait of Tromsoe. It seemed to be a part of a wing from the French Latham seaplane piloted by Rene Guilbaud, and carrying, besides Amundsen, Lieut. Leif Dietrichsen and three French naval airmen.

COAL OIL STARTS FIRE

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Sept. 13.—Six children of Mr. and Mrs. T. Peyeur are dead and a hired girl, Mary Peyeur, twenty, a niece of the family, may die as the result of a fire which early this morning destroyed the Peyeur home at Mileage 279 on the Algoma Central Railway, about twenty miles south of Hearst, Ont. The parents, together with a baby in arms and a thirteen-year-old girl, escaped from the flames. Bodies of two children, apparently smothered by smoke, have been recovered, but the remains of the other four still are in the ruins.

Destruction of the house followed the use of coal oil in the kitchen stove by the hired girl to revive a smouldering fire. The girl was terribly burned.

RUPERT FISHING SHOWS UP WELL

Year's Salmon Pack Will Be Fourth Largest on Record — Halibut Running Strong

PRINCE RUPERT, Sept. 13.—Due to the heavy run of pinks, it now seems certain that the 1928 salmon pack in District No 2, of which Prince Rupert is the centre, will be the fourth largest on record. Figures have been mounting up every week and, at the end of August, the pack stood at approximately 990,000 cases as compared with a total of 655,913 cases in 1927.

Halibut landings at Prince Rupert for the present season up to September 7 stood at 19,327,600 pounds, as compared with a total of 19,169,950 pounds at a similar date last year. Canadian landings for this season, standing at 6,120,400 pounds, are close to a million pounds in excess of 1927's 5,373,600 pounds at a similar date, while American landings were down from 13,796,300 pounds to 13,207,200 pounds.

ANGLO-PERUVIAN CASE IN COURT

Mr. Justice Audette Reserve Judgment on Action Dismissed in Admiralty Court

VANCOUVER, Sept. 13.—Judgment was reserved by Mr. Justice Audette in Exchequer Court today on an appeal by Vancouver Orient Export Co., Ltd., from a judgment by Mr. Justice Martin, Admiralty Court, dismissing their action for $685 damages from the Ss. Anglo-Peruvian.

The appellants' claim was based on damage to a boom of logs, alleged to have been caused by the Anglo-Peruvian backing into it on December 27, 1927, after leaving the Empire Stevedoring dock in North Vancouver.

Next on the list for hearing by Mr. Justice Audette is an application by the Canadian Department of Militia and Defence for dismissal of an action by John William Cooke, 4323 Queen's Avenue, Point Grey, for $3,225 claimed as arrears of pay and allowances to his wife and family while he was a member of the Canadian Expeditionary Forces.

Counsel for the department are raising the issue that there is no action at law, and the court is without jurisdiction to hear the claim.

A Superb Collection of

Better Grade Fur-Trimmed Coats

For Women and Misses

Coats are in tune with the dresses under them this Fall, for they achieve a pleasing variation in silhouettes. Using the straight line silhouette as a background, a feminine theme is developed by a side flare at the closing, or two or three knife pleats similarly placed. On others, flat tiers—one or two of them—and a tunic line on the skirt of the coat lend novelty and interest.

These very handsome coats are luxuriously trimmed with handsome fur collars and in some cases cuffs of rich fur. We would emphasize the importance of early selection.

Marine and Fisheries Department Charters Two Western Canada Airways Machines

VANCOUVER, Sept. 13. — Two new flying boats, recently acquired by Western Canada Airways, Ltd., left today under charter to the Department of Marine and Fisheries for fisheries patrol service in the North, it was announced by Major D. R. MacLaren, western manager for the company. Their destination was not revealed, but is understood to be one of several bases between Swanson Bay and Prince Rupert.

Major MacLaren flew one of the new planes, a Boeing flying boat, from Seattle on Wednesday afternoon, making the flight in one hour and twenty minutes.

NITRATE VESSEL HAS BAD BLAZE

Several Explosions and Fire Aboard Ss. Aconcagua at New York Dock

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The cargo of nitrate of soda aboard the Chilean passenger and freight steamer Aconcagua burst into flames late today after several minor explosions. The ship was tied up to her docks at the foot of Kane Street, Brooklyn. No one was injured and the flames were brought under control an hour after the fire started.

The Aconcagua, owned by the South American Steamship Line, docked Saturday with passengers and a load of twenty-five tons of nitrate of soda.

Secret of Life Far From Verge Of Elucidation

LONDON, Sept. 13.—The Mail says that Professor A. V. Hill was amazed at the stir throughout the country created by the paper read at the Glasgow Scientific Congress by Professor F. G. Donnan, in which he said that Hill was on the verge of discovery of the differences between cellular life and death.

The professor, whose work had been termed of "astounding importance," was located in a rural retreat in Devonshire.

"Professor Donnan is an old friend of mine," he said. "I lent him a paper containing the results of some of my recent researches, into which he read far more than I myself would read."

He added with a chuckle, "But Donnan is an Irishman and a poet."

"All I have been doing," he went on, "is trying to discover how the organization of the molecules in the living cells work. There is not the slightest 'mystery' about this, and nothing I have done means we are shortly to be able to plumb the secret of life. It has been said, but not by Donnan, that I am able to make a living cell. That is utter nonsense."

Harry Wilcox, of this city, left today for a short business trip to Chicago. The Baptist Church, of which he is a member, will hold prayer services tonight.—Minneapolis Star.

A Warm Home Starts a Cold Day Right

Sunbeam Furnaces have been built since 1884—by The Fox Furnace Company, one of the country's oldest manufacturers of Warm Air Circulating Systems.

A piping hot breakfast in a warm, cosy dining-room. There's nothing like it on a bitter cold morning. To make rooms warm in early morning is one of the essentials of a good heating plant. To meet this demand surely, easily, and economically requires quick action, immediate response to the open draft, a full volume of healthful heat. These are just the advantages you will enjoy with a Sunbeam Warm-Air Circulating System.

And you'll find that every room in your home will be comfortably heated by fresh, moist, warm air all day long. But at the end of the month, when you figure up the cost of this better heating, you'll find that your Sunbeam has made a very worth-while saving.

Just see, phone, or write us today for full details.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION

The hope will be generally entertained by all interested that the Provincial Government during the course of the next session of the Legislature will introduce amendments to the Workmen's Compensation Act. The amendments clearly necessary are those which will make workmen's compensation operate more beneficially in the interests of those for whom it is designed. The Act has now been long enough in effect to bring about an increase in the compensation given in cases of accidents to workmen. At the same time so great a reserve fund has been accumulated that the tax levied on both employers and employees can be reduced. In conjunction with both these amendments some limit should be placed on the funded reserve which is being built up as the years of operation accumulate.

Another amendment could very well provide for a more generous interpretation of the medical benefits which ensue under the Act. There have been complaints for a long time past that the board, in its treatment of some cases, adopts by far too autocratic a position. It is endowed with very considerable powers and it may not be advisable to curtail these, but if it is necessary that the spirit of the law, which is of the philanthropic variety, should be interpreted so that wider social benefits will be felt then the letter of the law can very well be changed. This ameliorative legislation will undoubtedly be kept in mind by the Government, some of whose members have during the past sessions been severe critics of the Workmen's Compensation Act, as it now stands.

One fact which emerges in connection with this law is that it should not be the means of building up a reserve fund greater than is needed for the most remote contingencies. What the limit of the fund should be we do not know. That is a matter for actuaries, but that there should be a limit we are persuaded. On the basis of population and annual increases in the industrial population and the incidence of accident it ought to be possible to arrive at some sum which could constitute a reserve fund, a sum which would necessarily be provided for on a graduating scale as population increases. Unquestionably, too, there could be a re-examination of the occupations which come under the authority of the Act. There are some where the danger of accident is so remote that those affected are merely direct contributors to a piece of social legislation in which the odds are thousands to one against their ever benefitting. It is the inclusion of such occupations that hurts social legislation by arousing hostility to the character of its operation.

THE SHEEP INDUSTRY

In twelve months Japan bought 100,000,000 pounds of wool from Australia and New Zealand and not an ounce from British Columbia. The wool produced in this province is shipped to Toronto and it costs 5¾ cents per pound for freight of this character. If British Columbia could ship its wool by the water route from this coast, either to Europe or to the Orient, it could probably save five cents per pound. With the development of such a trade the grading could be done in Vancouver, whereas it is now done in Toronto. The fact is that the wool grower in British Columbia does not get for his produce within 50 per cent of the value the Australian or New Zealand grower gets every time. This is, of course, one of the reasons why the sheep industry improves so slowly in this province.

There are immense ranges of land eminently suitable for the industry in British Columbia. With grading done in Vancouver and the great markets of the Orient utilized this province could build up an immense trade in wool. The quality of the wool grown here is excellent and has received the stamp of approval from experts in England. There is no branch of the agricultural industry in British Columbia which could be developed to better advantage than wool-growing, certainly no branch that would insure greater profits for the producers. The increase in the flocks of sheep would mean also that the province could become more and more self supporting in its supplies of mutton.

TECHNICAL NIGHT CLASSES

The figures submitted to the School Board, which indicate a decline in the popularity of the local night schools, have been put forward with the idea of reorganization to lead to better administrative and educational work. It is felt that under some such plan happier results will ensue, and those who register for night-time instruction, or at least a large proportion of them than at present, will complete their courses. Trustee J. S. McMillan has done a public service in bringing this matter to the attention of the School Board. The figures he has been successful in giving publicity to may or may not have a bearing on the decline in the popularity of technical education. What is apparent, however, is that while more children are all the time coming forward for enrolment in the public school system, less adults are availing themselves of the opportunities in this city for securing technical education to the extent that it can be given at night schools at a purely nominal cost.

If the Board of School Trustees is interested in technical education, and there is no doubt it is, it can hardly allow Mr. McMillan's recommendations to go by without action. He has put forward constructive suggestions as to what might be done. There are ample facilities now available for technical education at the High School. It is a question of how they can best be applied, the more especially in the direction of attracting the sustained interest of the greatest possible number of students. The problem appears to be one of efficient administration and teaching of a character that will secure the best results. After all, all technical education is tested in the crucible of the success of those who take the courses. It is their careers and the benefits they have derived from vocational training, in either day or night schools, that form the criterion of value of our technical educational system. The School Board, on its part, has an undoubted duty in seeing that, with the ample facilities it has at its disposal, nothing in an administrative or educational sense is left undone. For that reason, and because there is a declining number of students taking the night classes, there is clearly a case for examination into the methods that are employed.

JUVENILE DELINQUENTS

During 1927 there were 7,550 boys and 635 girls classed as juvenile delinquents in the Dominion. These figures compare with 7,259 boys and 572 girls in 1926. The majority of these cases come from the larger cities. The report of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics shows that of those juveniles convicted of major offences less than 45 per cent were Canadian-born of Canadian parents. There were 25 per cent Canadian-born of foreign parents and less than 12 per cent Canadian-born of British parents. The Canadian-born of foreign parents produced the greatest percentage of delinquents, namely 95 per 10,000 of population. Those of British-born parents out of Canada came next with 62 per 10,000 and Canadians of Canadian-born parents show 19.8 per 10,000. The British and foreign-born children show the smallest ratio of delinquents, namely 8.8 and 13.1 per cent respectively.

One theory advanced to account for the foregoing figures is that it is the children of the first generation in this country who supply the most difficult problem. The analysis of foreign-born delinquents shows the Polish with 306 per 10,000 of the population; the Austrians with 260; the Italians with 259; the Russians with 103, and the Germans with 14. Of Canada's delinquents during 1927 only 35 per cent were given punitive sentences. The other delinquents were warned, reprimanded or put under supervision.

Dr. Katherine G. Manion, who is the medical examiner for the Women's Mutual Benefit Association of America, says that girls of today walk and sit awkwardly. There are few that will agree with her as to the way girls walk because there has been a hundred per cent improvement since the increase of athletics and outdoor exercise among the fair sex. On the other hand it has been remarked that girls do sit awkwardly. The reason, overlooked by Dr. Manion, is that skirts are now so short that a constant process of adjustment is needed and the sitting pose is often anything but graceful and certainly must be frequently far from comfortable.

Note and Comment

By R. S. D.

The esteemed Toronto Star and its faithful satellites, which assume that no one can express sentiments of loyalty to British institutions without expressing sentiments of disloyalty to Canadian institutions, have an opportunity at the present time of giving a practical demonstration of their super-Canadianism. British Columbia is a Canadian province. Fruit-growing is an important industry in that province. According to the testimony of the fruit-growers of the Okanagan country, supported by the action of a former Minister of Agriculture and the testimony of the present Minister of Agriculture, that industry is facing a serious economic situation, if not actual ruin.

* * *

It is possibly too late to avert serious losses to the fruit-growers, but complete disaster might be avoided if the Dominion Government could be persuaded to do its duty by reviving the provisions of the suspended dumping act. We do not suppose that The Toronto Star, for obvious political reasons, is deeply interested in the well-being of the fruit-growers of British Columbia, but it should be interested in the well-being of the fruit-growers of Ontario, who also are suffering seriously from the competition of the dumped surplus fruit of a foreign country. If the esteemed Star and its satellites could sink their free trade prejudices for a time and ask the Government which they support to do an obvious duty, which it has the power to do unless the will be lacking, the pending ruin of the fruit-growing industry of this province and distress to the better-established fruit-growing industry of Eastern provinces of Canada might be averted.

* * *

We trust the appeal of the fruit men may not fall upon ears that are wilfully deaf. We hope the fruit-growers of Canada may not be told, as other Canadian industrialists have been told, that "in order to sell we must buy." That is an obsolete free trade theory that does not invariably apply in practice. We know from experience that tons of foreign apples are being sold in Canada, many tons of them in British Columbia, but we doubt whether even an adept juggler whether even an adept juggler could smuggle one British Columbia apple into the foreign country, which produces and dumps those apples. The Vancouver Province, which is probably quite as loyal to Canadian sentiment and institutions as The Toronto Star and its satellites, has appealed strongly and eloquently to the Federal Government to give the deplorable circumstances of the British Columbia fruit-grower its most serious consideration. The Province says:

"The people of the Okanagan, in their despair—and 'despair' is not too strong a word here—are hoping something, but it can not be very much, for an understanding and agreement with the co-operative farmers of the Prairie provinces. But it is a forlorn hope at best, and even at the best, it promises no relief this year. The only thing which can prevent a wholesale dumping of American apples in Winnipeg and Regina and Calgary and Edmonton—and in Vancouver and Victoria, too, for that matter—is a prompt decision by the Ottawa Government to clap on an anti-dumping duty. The dumping is taking place at this moment. The prevention, if there is to be prevention, must be immediate.

"We know it is a question of politics. We know it is a question of balancing the support of the Prairie farmers against the interests of the Okanagan Valley. There is all the more reason why Premier King and his Government should remember the obligations of statesmanship. For the impoverishment, and perhaps the ruin, of the fruit-growers of British Columbia, it seems to us, is too big a price to pay in order that the Prairie people may have cheap apples."

* * *

In case it may be said that The Province is more influenced by partyism than patriotism in making its appeal to the Liberal Government of the Dominion, let us quote the views of The Toronto Globe, which has been a Liberal newspaper ever since the day of its birth. It is true that The Globe has been charged by The Star and its satellites with the unpardonable offence of expressing the views of "Little Canadians." The following editorial, we submit, establishes the position of our Toronto contemporary as a "Big Canadian," for it places the interests of the country above the interests of its political party:

"British Columbia fruit-growers have now added their protest to that of the growers of Ontario against the apparent failure of customs regulations to prevent 'dumping' of American fruit and vegetables here at sacrifice prices. The highly organized fruit growers of the Okanagan Valley, who have a sales organization all-embracing in its scope, complain they cannot survive if they must meet the slaughter prices at which foreign goods are offered.

"At this distance the facts of the case cannot be fully known, but they appear to justify fullest inquiry by Ottawa authorities. It is an old custom of American producers to sell their surplus abroad at low prices in order to stiffen quotations at home for the bulk of their output. The farm relief measures at Washington during the past year or two have been efforts to jack up the home market by arranging for the disposal of the surplus. Other nations who respect the rights of the producers must be on guard against such measures.

"Canada endorsed the principle of fighting the dumping of foreign goods in this country by legislation twenty years ago. There was a gallant start to meet this situation, and Government agents were posted in the United States and elsewhere to study home prices and warn officials here against sacrifice sales. Judging by complaints of recent months, this anti-dumping machinery is not fully functioning. Ottawa officials say the law has not been changed, but that high powers are given to local customs collectors to put it in operation on arrival of imported goods on presentation of proof of 'dumping.' On the other hand, it is claimed the administration of the law has been transferred from the Minister of National Revenue to the entire Cabinet, with resulting delays in operation.

"Premier King has cited the difficulties of the situation by mentioning the rights of the consumers to cheap fruit and vegetables. The fact remains, however, that there is a Canadian law against dumping, and dumping is no more desirable nor justifiable now than it was when the law was passed. The Government should seek the facts, and do it quickly."

The Rhyming Optimist

By Aline Michaelis

HE WHO LAUGHS

He who laughs with life will find
Days are sunny, folks are kind.
While the cares he knows of old,
Doubts and worries manifold,
Fall, forgotten, far behind.
He who trusts in life will learn
Just how bright its fires can burn;
Every shining ship of dream
With new glory in its gleam
Safe to harbor will return.
He who enjoys life will see
Bright hopes flourish like a tree
Rooted in a kindly soil,
Since from vexing thought's turmoil
Laughter's magic sets him free.

N. Saanich Social Club

NORTH SAANICH, Sept. 13.—The weekly social evening of the members and friends of the North Saanich Social Club was held in the club rooms, School Crossroad, on Saturday night.

There was a good attendance of members, who spent a very pleasant time at progressive five hundred, which was played at twelve tables. Keen competition for twenty hands resulted in the prizes being presented to Mrs. Lorenzen and Mr. H. L. Ricketts.

At the termination of the cards, the younger members assisted with the serving of refreshments, and the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing, which was continued until midnight, the music being supplied by Mrs. Smith, at the piano, and Mr. Ernest Livesey at the drums.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of September 14, 1878)

Marine—The steamer Alexander will leave today for Departure Bay to bring down the bark Frederick Stone, coal-laden for San Francisco. The bark cut from San Francisco and is consequently fully due. The bark Modoc, bound for Nanaimo from San Francisco for a cargo of coal, is reported off Fikwa, just across the Straits, having been detained there by thick weather since Sunday last.

Counterfeit Bills—It is said that there are so many counterfeit $1 and $2 Dominion notes in circulation that a new issue will be necessary. Dies and plates are in preparation.

The steamer Wilson G. Hunt left about 8.30 a.m. yesterday with the mails and the following passengers: Miss McAuley, Mrs. Robson, Mrs. Hunter, J. W. Howson, D. Mills, Albert J. Crawford, C. L. Jackson, nineteen Chinamen and one Indian.

B.C. PREMIER MAKES OFFER FOR SETTLERS

Hon. S. F. Tolmie Discusses Migration With Parliamentarians — Practical Suggestions

MR. KIRKWOOD GETS INFORMATION ASKED

VANCOUVER, Sept. 13.—Premier S. F. Tolmie today informed delegates of the Empire Parliamentary Association that the British Columbia Government would be prepared at any time to enter into negotiations in the most sympathetic manner possible for placing British-born settlers on British Columbia lands.

British Columbia was prepared to supply the land. He thought that a preliminary training could be given settlers in clearing settlement lands. They might be paid a reasonable per diem wage and at the same time the men would get actual training and fit themselves for farm work.

British Columbia wanted British settlers because they were our own kith and kin and because the Old Land had produced the best agriculturists in the world.

The Premier made light of present "ice cream" hardships as compared with the hardships of pioneering days. There would always be some among immigrants who would not do so well as others.

"If the twelve Apostles had come to British Columbia," Premier Tolmie said, "two or three of them would have wanted to go fishing."

ENTERTAING INCIDENT

David Kirkwood, Scottish Labor M.P., said the capitalist class in Canada, as in Great Britain, was begging for assistance because capitalism was tottering to a fall.

"You don't require money in Canada, you require men," Mr. Kirkwood declared. He asserted that he would not be a party to any scheme which would make of his people hewers of wood and drawers of water in Canada.

There was a laugh when Mr. Kirkwood added that what Canada required to have was a Socialist republic.

Mr. Kirkwood wanted to know why the drydock was built at Victoria; what was the meaning of the great cold storage plant there, and why there was the great capacity for storing grain.

Premier Tolmie replied that the drydock was built to provide work in Canada for Canadian workmen, rather than to send Canadian ships for repairs to American yards. The same idea applied to the cold storage plant.

"It made me laugh," Mr. Tolmie added, "to hear some one talk of British settlers being hewers of wood and drawers of water to Canadians. Why, ninety per cent of Canadians began work in the same way."

CLUBMEN HEAR OF MOTOR TRIP

Major W. J. Wilby Tells Rotarians of Recent Tour by Marksmen to Ottawa and Return

"Never once during our trip through the United States did we hear a single unfriendly word about Canada or Great Britain. We did hear, though, many speak very highly of the Canadians and British," Major W. J. Wilby, of the teaching faculty of the Victoria High School, said yesterday, in addressing the Victoria Rotary Club in the Empress Hotel ballroom on the recent trip East which youthful marksmen of the 112th Cadet Corps of the High School and himself made in an old, small motor car.

Major Wilby said that while members of the party, who were attired in uniforms, carried rifles and pistols with them, the trip did more for peace than it did for war, the tour was a good will mission, and the travelers were heartily received wherever they visited, he declared.

NATIONAL MONUMENTS

The speaker related a number of adventures of the trip, spoke of traveling conditions, and said they were impressed by the national monuments at Kingston, Ontario, particularly the Martello towers surviving from ancient fortifications.

"We don't make enough of our historical monuments in Canada," Major Wilby believed.

The local marksmen did very well in rifle shooting at Ottawa, and proved that the young men of Victoria were now at the top of Canada in rifle shooting.

Major Wilby said the tour had been taken as an educational feature, and he hoped that it would be repeated by a larger number in future years.

TALENTED HARPIST

Edith Knapp, talented harpist, playing this week at the Capitol Theatre, was presented by Rotarian Clifford Dinham and delighted the clubmen with a group of selections which aroused enthusiastic applause.

Mr. Victor Clark directed an acquaintance stunt, in which Frank Sehl and Percy Marchant participated.

President Anscomb welcomed back Alderman James Adam from a trip to Winnipeg, and Mr. Edward Taylor from Montana. Mr. Alex. Macfarlane, of Vancouver, a former district Rotary governor was among the guests.

POOL PAYMENTS

VERNON, B.C., Sept. 13.—Associated Growers are this week distributing $175,181.98 to locals for payments to fruit growers. The apricot pools have been closed and the money, which totals $52,505.18 will be paid out to the various locals.

The Luxury Soap of the World

Ladies of the gay days of the Georgian Court sought the charm of Yardley's Old English Lavender Soap from the apothecary. From his modern prototype the ladies of to-day still seek this charm—the soothing, enriching softness and the lovable, clinging fragrance which is the distinctive gift of Yardley's.

MR. J. PATERSON PASSES AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

Purchasing Agent for Government of B.C. Dies Here After Long Residence in Victoria

HE CENTRALIZED PRESENT SYSTEM

The death took place yesterday of Mrs. James Paterson, purchasing agent of the Provincial Government, at his residence, 530 Lotbiniere Avenue. His health had not been good for some time, but he had been at his desk in the Parliament Buildings as recently as Tuesday.

Mr. Paterson was born in Toronto in 1858, and came to British Columbia forty years ago. He was formerly associated with his brother in the wholesale fruit firm of Paterson Brothers. He was also identified with the shoe business for some time.

When appointed by the late Government as purchasing agent, he had to organize a central purchasing department, and so well did he succeed that other Canadian provinces have copied the model of the central system adopted here. When the department also took over the purchase of liquors for tme Liquor Control Board his responsibilities increased largely.

Mr. Paterson was a member of the Victoria Rotary Club, of the Pacific Club, a member of the Masonic craft, being identified with Ancient Landmark Lodge No. 3, A.F. & A.M., Grand Register of Manitoba, and was connected with St. Andrew's Church. His colleagues on the Rotary Club paid tribute to him at the weekly luncheon yesterday afternoon.

The family are a widow and one son, Mr. Gillan Paterson, associated with the customs work of the Liquor Control Board.

Funeral arrangements are announced by McCall Brothers, at whose funeral home the remains are resting. The funeral service will be held at St. Andrew's Church at 2:30 tomorrow, the interment being made in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Obituary

PHIPPS—The funeral of baby Phipps, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus F. Phipps, who died on Tuesday at St. Joseph's Hospital, took place yesterday from the Sands Funeral Chapel, Rev. J. P. Westman officiated and the remains were laid to rest in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

EDG—There passed away at St. Joseph's Hospital last evening, as the result of an accident, Wilfred Edg, aged twenty-eight years, born in Clutton, Chester, England, and a resident of Saanich for the past seven years, on Carey Road. Mr. Edg is survived by his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. William Edg, three brothers and three sisters in England, and one brother, of Saanich. The funeral will take place on Saturday, leaving the Sands Funeral Chapel at 3 o'clock; twenty minutes later services will be conducted in St. Michael's Church, Royal Oak, by Rev. N. E. Nixon, and the remains will be laid to rest in St. Michael's Cemetery.

CROSSMAN—The death occurred suddenly on Wednesday, at St. Joseph's Hospital, of Ernest Jack Crossman, aged six years, only son of Mr. and Mrs. John Crossman, 726 Powderly Avenue. The little boy was born in New Zealand and is survived by his parents, one sister, Ethel Vera; his grandmother, Mrs. Wilson McRelvie, of Londonderry, Ireland; grandfather, William Crossman, 454 Griffiths Street, also several uncles and aunts. The funeral will be held from the Sands Funeral Chapel on Saturday at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

Prairie Tourists Come to B.C. More Than California

VANCOUVER, Sept. 13.—British Columbia has superseded California as an attraction for residents of the Canadian Prairies, according to R. G. McNeillie, C.P.R. general passenger agent, Winnipeg, who is spending a few days in the city.

"The tourist traffic from the Prairie to British Columbia," said Mr. McNeillie, "is increasing, and the indication is that this province will get more visitors from the three middle provinces than ever before. In previous years the ratio to ticket sales on the Prairies was three out of five for California. Last year the ratio was three out of five for British Columbia."

DAMAGES FOR INJURY ASKED

MISS JENNIE McGAW SUES ROBERT HULL FOR $7,531 IN SUPREME COURT

Plaintiff Alleges Motor Accident on West Saanich Road Caused Through Negligence

Damages of $7,531 are sought by Miss Jennie McGaw, 2616 Douglas Street, against Robert Hull, constable in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, residing at Cardston, Alta., in an action which opened yesterday in the Supreme Court, before Mr. Justice Murphy. The trial continued all day and was then adjourned sine die. There are still several witnesses to be examined.

Miss McGaw, the plaintiff, claimed damages for injuries which she suffered through the alleged negligence of the defendant, Hull, while operating a motor vehicle in which she was a passenger.

Plaintiff testified that on August 23, 1925, Hull invited her to drive with him in his automobile to the ferry on Saanich Arm along the West Saanich Road. She accepted, and as they were proceeding along that road the defendant, she said, drove the car in a negligent and furious manner and ran off the road. The car struck a telephone pole, and she was thrown from the car and broke her hip and was otherwise seriously hurt. As a result of the injuries, she said, she was permanently disabled and unable to resume her previous occupation.

Damages asked by plaintiff were as follows: Hospital bills, $575; doctors' bills, $150; loss of employment, $1,806, and general damages, $5,000, making a total claim for damages of $7,531.

Hull, the defendant, denied that he had invited Miss McGaw to drive with him. He was requested by her to drive the Misses Phillips and herself to Shawnigan for an outing, and while proceeding along the West Saanich Road in a careful manner, he said, he was forced off the highway in order to avoid an imminent collision with a large blue motor car coming forward at a dangerous rate of speed.

The accident was caused, claimed Hull, without any negligence on his part, but by the negligence of the plaintiff, in that on the approach of the blue motor car she ordered him to get over to the side of the road, off the pavement, and also by her giving orders to him and interfering with him in the driving of the motor car.

Mr. F. C. Elliott appeared as counsel for Miss McGaw, while Mr. C. H. O'Halloran represented the defendant, Hull.

ROTARIANS PAY TRIBUTE TO DEAD

Members of Local Club Adopt Resolution and Observe Minute of Silence

Tribute to the memory of the late Rotarian James Paterson, purchasing agent for the British Columbia Government since 1918, whose death occurred suddenly yesterday morning, was paid by members of the Victoria Rotary Club at their luncheon meeting in the Empress Hotel.

President Herbert Anscomb informed the clubmen of the passing of Mr. Paterson, and requested Mr. Jack Clark to present a motion to the meeting. Mr. Clark moved a resolution that a letter of condolence be sent to Mrs. Paterson and family. The speaker said Mr. Paterson was a man possessed of high qualities, was a sincere friend of all who knew him, and had lived a life that Rotarians should always live.

In seconding the motion, Mr. Frank J. Sehl expressed the members' regret that death had made another break in the Rotary ranks. Mr. Paterson, he stated, had been a member of the Victoria Rotary Club for many years, and while he was of a retiring nature, he had been a great helper and worker in community service.

The resolution of sympathy was carried unanimously, the clubmen standing in silence for a minute.

P. F. CURTIS WILL DIRECT RUGBY UNION

Victoria Branch Elects Officers for Ensuing Year at Annual Meeting Held Last Night

McKECHNIE CUP SERIES WITHDRAWN

The annual meeting of the Victoria Rugby Union was held last evening in the Chamber of Commerce, and the outlook for the coming season appears brighter. The installation of officers for the ensuing year, the presentation of the financial report, and a hearty vote of thanks extended to the retiring president and secretary, Gordon Cameron and Charlie Walls, respectively, otherwise featured a most successful meeting.

The newly-elected honorary members are as follows: Honorary president, Magistrate George Jay; honorary vice-presidents, Hon. W. C. Nichol and Bob McInnes; honorary officials, W. F. Whitlock, Commander Nelles, W. H. P. Hope, K. C. Symons, S. Downs and Gordon Cameron. The league this year will be guided by a body of men capable of carrying the Union through another successful term. The newly-elected board of directors are the following: President, P. F. Curtis; vice-president, H. J. Ketchin; secretary, V. L. Denton; treasurer, Bob Travis; chairman of intermediate league, I. Simpson; secretary, R. Symons; chairman of the referees' board, G. Sanson; representative of the school league, Captain Dexter; and delegates to the British Columbia Rugby Union, Gordon Cameron and Bob Travis.

P. F. Curtis, on hearing that he was chosen as new president, took the chair and thanked those present for putting him there. He remarked that his heart and soul will be in the game and he will do his best efforts to improve and keep the high level of sportsmanship shown last season.

ENTRIES THIS YEAR

The prospective entries for this year's senior division will be Canadian Scottish, Navy, Pirates and J.B.A.A., while in the intermediate section the following have signified their entering teams: Canadian Scottish, Oak Bay Wanderers, University School and Victoria College.

The financial condition of the league is very good and they start the present season with a small balance in the bank. It was unanimously decided by those present and the newly-elected body that the Victoria Union withdraw from further competition in the McKechnie Cup series, due to the fact that the Vancouver Union, which undoubtedly has a large sum in the bank, plays one game here, while the Victoria squad is forced to make two trips to the Mainland. These trips, in the opinion of the league, cost money, and that is one reason for the small sum they have in the bank. It was also decided that when the Vancouver Union sees fit to give some cooperation, the local union will compete again in this series.

The next matter that came under fire was that of new playing fields. Although the Willows grounds are available for play, they are not suited, especially in the Winter time, when they are practically flooded by rains. Last year the Junior Chamber of Commerce took up the matter of better playing fields, and the officials hope something may be done in securing some grounds suitable for games. Another field was that of the Royal Athletic Park, but the surface of this ground is too hard for Rugby and practically monopolized by the soccer leagues all Winter.

Various members were outspoken regarding the management of the Willows grounds and also the condition of the place in view of the fact that the management gets fifteen per cent of every gate.

"The outlook for coming season seems to be bright," concluded the newly-appointed secretary as the meeting came to a close.

SIDNEY UNITED LADIES' AID MEETS

SIDNEY, Sept. 13.—The monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Sidney United Church was held at the home of Mrs. H. O. Homewood, Amelia Avenue, on Wednesday afternoon. The president, Mrs. J. F. Simister, occupied the chair and opened the meeting, at which there was a very large attendance of members.

It was reported that the beach party, held at the McDonald Beach, on Wednesday, August 15, through the kind invitation of Mrs. J. Wilkinson, had prove a most enjoyable afternoon's outing.

It was also reported that the annual picnic, which was held this year in Victoria at the home of a former member, Mr. J. T. Taylor, had proven a very delightful and happy gathering.

Ways and means of raising money were discussed and many novel ideas were presented and tabled for further reference. It was decided to adopt the thank offering system for the remainder of the year, and to carry on again through the year. A substantial sum was then voted to the church board. The meeting adjourned for tea, which was daintily served by the hostess, and dispersed, to meet again on Wednesday, October 10, at the home of Mrs. Williamson, Beacon Avenue.

When we go to bed early, hoping to wake up fresher than usual, we generally seem to wake up drowsier than after a late night.

In fact, the longer and "deeper" we sleep, the more time it takes to recover from the resultant "flightiness." Mental tests show that students averaged a ten per cent higher score at night than immediately after eight hours' restful sleep.

In the morning when your mind is fresh it is best prepared for a brief spurt, but it is too restless to concentrate. As the day wears on the mind is helped to concentrate by fatigue poisons that accumulate in the system. They act as mental excitants, and the best time for sustained mental work is from late afternoon until midnight or later.

Russia Due at William Head Early Saturday

Due at William Head quarantine at 6 o'clock Saturday morning, the C.P.R. liner Empress of Russia, Commander A. J. Hosken, R.N.R., is bringing 398 passengers from the Orient and a rich cargo of freight, which includes about 650 tons of silk. In addition to this, the ship has 900 tons of overland cargo, 100 tons of perishable overland and 925 tons of cargo for Canadian Atlantic ports. Her passenger list is divided into forty-eight saloon, seventy-two second, twenty-six third and 252 steerage.

TICKETS MOVING FAST FOR FIGHT SATURDAY NIGHT

Bumper Crowd Will Witness Fielding-Woods Bout at Sons of Canada Hall—Local Lad Favored to Win

GOOD SUPPORTING CARD IS SLATED

Tickets for the Fielding-Woods ten-round bout on Saturday night are moving fast, according to information received last night, and indications point to a bumper house. The show, which looks particularly attractive, will be staged in the Sons of Canada Hall, View Street. The curtain raiser, which will bring together C. Bradshaw and A. B. Jennings, in four rounds, will start promptly at 8:30 o'clock.

In the second bout Jumbo Davies, Victoria's latest boxing sensation, will meet Matthews, of Seattle.

Danny Pastroe, who of late has developed a nasty sleep-producer, will have his hands full when he climbs over the ropes to battle Dan Barclay, of the Sound city. The American, according to advices, packs plenty of heavy wallops which his manager thinks will slow up the aggressive Danny.

Tim Keist, idol of many Capital City fight fans, will try conclusions with Curly Bernstein.

MAN SINGS AS PLEA ENTERED

WALTER NICHOLLS SAYS HE WANTS TO SEE WHAT INSIDE OF JAIL IS LIKE

Admits Stealing Quantity of Articles —Further Examination of Accused's Sanity Is Ordered

"I want to go to jail. I want to see what it's like inside. I'm going to jail some day, anyway," said Walter Nicholls, an elderly man, in Saanich police court yesterday, in pleading guilty to stealing one table, a meat safe and eight sealers of preserves, the property of Charles Pottinger, of Lurine Road, Saanich.

Nicholls told the court that he had come from Montreal two weeks ago, and since then had spent a few days at Pender Island.

Mr. Ernest L. Tait, Saanich prosecutor, informed Magistrate Jay that Nicholls had been staying for two weeks with Mr. Pottinger, who had befriended him. Mr. Pottinger requested the accused to leave his place, which he did. The accused, however, returned to the premises, broke into the house and took away a table. He went away again, but came back once more and purloined a meat safe and eight sealers of preserves. Nicholls had a cabin of his own, and was using the articles that he stole from Mr. Pottinger.

The prosecutor produced a statement from a medical doctor who had examined Nicholls and pronounced him sane.

During Mr. Tait's recital of the facts Nicholls constantly engaged in singing and didn't appear at all depressed over his presence in court or arraignment on the theft charge.

"I must say I have doubts about this man's sanity. I think he had better be further examined by a doctor," said Magistrate Jay, in remanding the case until 11 o'clock this morning.

"You are having a divorce from your wife?"

"Yes."

"What is the cause of the divorce?"

"Marriage."

Traffic Cop—Come on. What's the matter with you?

Truck Driver—I'm well, thanks, but my engine's dead.

AMPUTATION MEN ARRIVE TOMORROW

Over 200 Delegates From All Parts of Canada to Attend Annual Three-Day Convention in Victoria

CHURCH SERVICE SUNDAY MORNING

Over 200 delegates from all parts of Canada will arrive in Victoria tomorrow afternoon to attend the seventh annual convention of the Amputations' Association of the Great War, which will open here on Monday morning and continue until Wednesday night.

The outstanding feature of this Dominion conclave, which will be a most unique event, is the fact that these men represent the men and women who have lost a limb or limbs through war wounds, or complete eyesight. It is natural that the questions they will have to discuss will deal more or less with post-bellum problems which affect this class of men and women.

The total number of war amputation cases on pension in 1925 was 3,802, of which 445 were arm cases and 2,657 were amputations of the leg, these including a number of double or multiple amputations.

The Victoria Branch has been very busy during the last few months making the necessary arrangements for the entertainment of the visiting delegates, and a programme has been arranged which is notable in character on account of nature of the disability of these men and women.

Tomorrow evening the delegates will be taken to the Astrophysical Observatory on Little Saanich Mountain. Through the courtesy of the Army and Navy Veterans' Association, an invitation has been extended to the visitors to a smoking concert also, to be held in the club's premises on Fort Street tomorrow night.

Through the courtesy of Rev. Dr. Clem Davies and officials of the City Temple, a commemoration service will be held in the City Temple on Sunday, at 11 a.m. The delegates will fall in outside the Empress Hotel at 10:30 a.m., and march to the City Temple. The Amputations' Association desire this to be a real ex-service men's service, and extend a cordial invitation to all ex-service men and to the public to attend.

An extensive programme of entertainment has been prepared for the visitors during the three days of the convention next week.

CHINESE GOES BACK TO JAIL

Kwong Kee to Serve Two Years for Passing Worthless Cheque—F. F. Fletcher Case Remanded

Kwong Kee, a Chinese, who was convicted on a charge of obtaining $35 by a worthless cheque, was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary by Magistrate George Jay in the City Police Court yesterday. The accused, according to the police, had been sentenced to a total of six years and two months' imprisonment since 1919 on various charges of obtaining money by false pretences.

Further prosecution testimony was rendered by three witnesses in the case of Freeman Frederick Fletcher, colored, who is charged with assaulting William Canning, with intent to commit murder, on the early morning of Sunday, August 26, on the Ss. Princess Adelaide en route from Victoria to Vancouver.

Thomas T. Edwards, Eric Swanson and Patsy Little, all of Seattle, testified concerning the fight which occurred between Fletcher and Canning and which resulted in the alleged stabbing of Canning by the accused. The case was further remanded until 10 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Stuart Henderson appeared as counsel for Fletcher, while Mr. Claude L. Harrison, city prosecutor, directed the proceedings for the Crown.

A lot of things that once were supposed to result in disgrace now result in a movie contract.

Is Made Notary—Mr. Arthur Edward Cushing Read, of Longworth, has been appointed a notary public in and, for the province.

Bank Clearings—Clearings at the Victoria Clearing House for the week ending yesterday, were $2,578,393, as compared with $2,463,413 in the corresponding week of 1927.

Will Build School—Tenders are being invited by the Department of Public Works of the province for the erection of a one-room school at Bella Coola.

Visited Capital—Mr. Jack Loutet, who was the Conservative candidate in the riding of North Vancouver at the late election, was in the city yesterday on private business.

Permission Granted — The City Police Commission yesterday granted the Victoria Police Mutual Benefit Association permission to hold the annual police ball this year.

Medical Officer—Dr. R. H. Mason has been appointed medical health officer for Bella Coola and district, and medical inspector of schools for the schools at Bella Coola, Bella Coola Lower, Firvale, Green Bay, Mackenzie and Noosatsum.

Prohibited Area—The City Police Commission yesterday instructed Chief of Police Fry to move the prohibited area for parking on the northeast corner of Fort and Douglas Streets ten feet back of the present line.

Tenders Received—Tenders for the painting of the inside of the police station were received at yesterday's meeting of the City Police Commission, and referred to a special committee of Commissioners W. E. Staneland and William White.

Relieving Officer—Dr. A. E. Kydd has been named medical health officer for Lytton and district, and medical inspector of schools for the schools at Boston Bar, Chaumox, Keefers, Lytton and North Bend during the absence of Dr. P. M. Wilson.

Curb Gas Stations—Chief of Police John Fry presented to the City Police Commission yesterday a report of the gasoline and oil service stations with driveways over the sidewalks. The report was tabled and copies ordered to be sent to each of the commissioners.

Police Make Raid—Seventy Chinese were arrested last night on a charge of being inmates of a disorderly house, when Chief of Police John Fry and squad raided the Chinese Club at 557 and 561 Fisgard Street. They were released on bail amounting to $1,050, or $15 each.

Open Season for Moose — An amendment has been made to the Game Act regulations for the province by making the open season for moose extend from September 1, 1928, to December 15, 1928, both dates inclusive, in that portion of the Omineca electoral district situate and lying to the south of the main line of the Canadian National Railways, formerly known as the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, except the watershed of the Bulkley River and tributaries.

Seek Alteration—The Owl Drug Company and Mr. W. S. Terry wrote the City Police Commission yesterday, requesting the board to extend the one-hour parking of cars system on Douglas Street from the corner of Douglas and Fort Streets to the corner of Broughton and Douglas Streets. The commission decided that if the owners of the Campbell Building, the Weiler Block, and the property on the northeast corner of Douglas and Broughton Streets approve of the request, it will be recommended to the City Council that the one-hour parking system be accordingly extended.

Curios to Go to Vancouver Museum—It is announced that the Indian curio collection at the Nanaimo Biological Station, at Departure Bay, will be sent to the Vancouver Museum, including an old-time whaling outfit, treasure chest, and fossil shells. The whaling equipment was used by the West Coast Indians before the white men went into that industry, and consists of a long pole of yew wood, with a detachable head of sharpened mussel. To the head is attached a long cedar rope. Seal skins are then attached to the rope. When the capture took place the spears were thrust into the mammal, and the sealskins floated, keeping the hunters apprised of the position of the animal until it could be brought ashore.

Reject Suggestion—The Victoria Branch of the Automobile Club of British Columbia wrote the Police Commission yesterday with respect to traffic conditions existing at the intersection of Courtney and Government Streets. The club stated it found that the parking of cars in front of the building on the northwest corner caused an obstruction to vision that was dangerous and liable to lead to a serious accident, and suggested that parking be prohibited for a distance of forty to fifty feet north from the northwest corner of the intersection. The police board considered the matter and felt that it could not recommend this suggestion to the City Council. The letter was received and filed.

Accountant Convicted

TORONTO, Sept. 13.—Oliver J McNally, first assistant accountant at the Canadian Bank of Commerce, University Avenue and Queen Street branch, after admitting the theft of $42,000 in police court today, was sentenced to three and one-half years in Portsmouth penitentiary by Magistrate Browne. McNally attributed his downfall to gambling in the stock market.

Pendray, Andrews and Potter, and Misses Winnie Winkel, Winnie Borden, Vera Bailey, Muriel and Joyce Pendray and Dot and Billie Hector.

GOOD GAMES EXPECTED IN O.C. SOCCER

Derby County and Sheffield Favored to Put On Interesting Battle for League Leadership

BLACKBURN ROVERS MEET PORTSMOUTH

Burnley Expected to Defeat Bury—Leeds United Will Meet Huddersfield—Hearts to Battle Rangers

LONDON, Sept. 13.—Saturday fixtures in the English soccer league should produce a number of close contests, chief of which is likely to be the meeting at Derby of Derby County and Sheffield Wednesday. Both teams have started the season aggressively and are putting up a stiff fight for the league leadership. The cupholders, Blackburn Rovers, who have begun none too well, will entertain Portsmouth, who have demonstrated themselves to be a strong aggregation at home, but a weak team on foreign territory. Everton, league champions, will be at home to Manchester City, and should win.

Burnley, another team which got off on the right foot this season, go to Bury and look like picking up a couple of points. Leeds United, who have made a very favorable impression on their return to senior company, travel to Huddersfield, and dopesters pick the Leeds team to get not worse than a draw.

CHELSEA IN FORM

In the Second Division, Chelsea are hosts to Barnsley, and on this season's form should win comfortably. Good battles will be the matches between Notts County and Tottenham Hotspurs at Nottingham, and Oldham Athletics and Middlesbrough at Oldham.

The revamped Hearts team get their first great test on Saturday, when they meet the champion Rangers. The match will be played at Edinburgh, so that the Hearts can have nothing to complain of if they do not win.

Thistle go to Cowdenbeath, while Motherwell will entertain Partick Thistle.

KINSMEN WILL HOLD FROLIC

Plans Are Being Made for Entertainment at Crystal Garden Next Month

At the fortnightly dinner of the Kinsmen's Club last evening all arrangements were carried out for the holding of a grand frolic at the Crystal Garden on October 10. The event will be one of the most attractive ones of its kind that has yet been held, and the club promises that some special attractions will be announced later.

The proceeds of the frolic will be devoted to the Solarium. The Kinsmen will take charge of all the arrangements and in co-operation with that organization as joint patrons of the event, the Victoria Musicians' Union is appearing. This latter association will provide all the music.

The frolic will open at 9 o'clock in the evening and as a special attraction in connection with it a car will be given away.

Mr. J. H. Roaf to Speak to Island Members C.M.A.

Members of the Victoria and Island branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, will hear Mr. J. H. Roaf, chairman of the provincial division, today, at a luncheon gathering.

Mr. Roaf, who is connected with the Clayburn Company, whose head offices are in Vancouver, has taken an active share in the work of the division, and at the recent Vancouver Exhibition was the guest of honor at a luncheon tendered by the directors. He then traced the growth of the manufactures of the province over a period of forty years, until British Columbia had become the third manufacturing province in the Dominion.

The wets and drys are so far apart that the bottleggers have plenty of room to pass between.

'40'—The Danger Age For Most Men

Much Ill-Health of Later Years Due to Neglect of Conditions First Noticed in Middle Life

With middle-age ailments attacking over two-thirds of those past forty, it is time every man who notices such distressing symptoms as lameness, pains in back and down through groins, scanty but frequent and burning urination, "getting-up-nights," nervous irritability and lack of force—should at once try the amazing value of Dr. Southworth's URATABS.

While new to many, the truly remarkable value of URATABS has been proven by many years of successful use. Reports from doctors and users alike offer convincing evidence. "I never found anything to help my case until I tried URATABS." "URATABS are the best thing for bladder weakness and irritation I have ever tried." "No more backaches, no more pain, no more daily embarrassment or 'getting-up-nights.' I now sleep soundly and get up in the morning full of pep—thanks to URATABS!"—This is amazing evidence!

No matter how long you have been troubled, or how stubborn your case may seem to be, a ten-day test of Dr. Southworth's URATABS offers comfort and relief—and you can make the test without risk of cost, for any good druggist will supply you on guarantee of money back if not satisfied. Try URATABS today! (Advt.)

"Sparky" Adams Is Playing the Game of His Career at Shortstop for the Pittsburgh Pirates

By GEORGE MORIARTY
Manager Detroit Baseball Club.
(Copyright, 1928, by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

IN the event that the spotlight shines on Pittsburgh as the National League hope in the world series, this club should be a decidedly more dangerous foe than it was last October. Last Fall the Pirates were forced into a last ditch finish which robbed them of their energy and resources for title play.

This season Manager Donie Bush didn't wear his rose-colored glasses till the three-quarter period was reached. Then his pirate ship set sail like nobody's business. The most amazing feature about the Pirates' late-season showing is the absence of shortstop Glenn Wright from the line-up. Two short years ago he was regarded as a worthy successor to the only Hans Wagner, and now he is out of the picture, temporarily at least.

Wright's idleness gave Bush the long-chance idea of playing Sparky Adams, his second baseman, at shortstop, despite the opinion that he had been a shaky short fielder for the Chicago team a few years back. Adams has been playing the game of his life.

Bush slipped young Bartell into the second base job, which is much less difficult than shortstopping, for any newcomer. This managerial move put the Pirates back in the running. George Grantham has finally settled down as a dependable first baseman, and "Pie" Traynor has no peer in the third basing business, unless it is Lindstrom, of the Giants.

Burleigh Grimes is the Pirates' big punch in the pitching because he has lots of experience and gameness. Donie has placed unusual confidence in Fussell and Brame, and I know he thinks that Dawson, Burwell and Hill can handle any tough assignments.

Gone are Smith and Gooch from last year's backstop forces. The new order of things finds Hargreaves and Hemsley in their places. Both have shown themselves able to jump in and get results from a rebuilt pitching staff. Pittsburgh is stronger behind the bat than last season, except from the standpoint of attack, where in Smith excelled both Hargreaves and Hemsley.

WANER BROTHERS

The marvelous Waner Brothers, in my opinion, are better fitted than ever for world series duty, because of added experience. Last Fall they were plainly shy of the outfielding instinct that comes with lengthy service. When the Waner wonders are clicking properly, they are an outfield in themselves, particularly when their batting prowess is taken into consideration. Comorosky, Bricknell and Scott round out one of the very best fly-chasing outfits in the majors.

Pittsburgh and the Yankees would be more evenly matched this season, if only for the reason that the New Yorkers have been stumbling toward the wire under great stress. Last Fall they didn't even hesitate, and they brushed off the Pirates with the same abandon that marked their everyday scheduled contests.

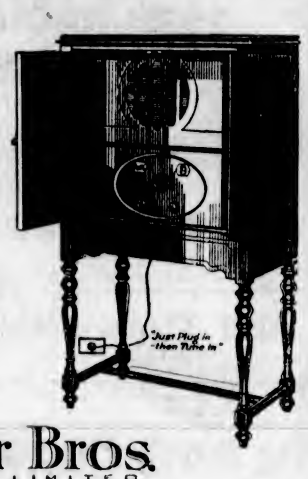

If Pittsburgh must engage the Philadelphia Athletics, the fear-complex regarding the Yankees' home-run hitters will be missing. But that doesn't mean the Mackmen can't pound the ball. While they have no Ruth or Gehrig, they have Simmons, Haas, Orwell, Foxx, Miller, Cochrane, and a few more that make pitchers shed tears before they reach the showers.

The big series between the Pirates and the Athletics would be extremely colorful, to say the least.

Stores Display Fall Fashion Features

Fall Fashions Afford Many Novel Features

Stores Display Autumn Showings in Attractive Lines—Effective Sports Clothes Have Been Designed for Damp, Cold Days

Fashion is such a fleeting thing—perhaps it is this quality that makes it so beloved by womankind in general. There is something in our makeup that longs for the new flattery. The youthful new clothes coming as they do with every new season gives us a new interest in life, and this Fall they are especially interesting because they seem to bring all those lovely lines that enhance woman's charms. Again the merchants of Victoria are making their fashion displays for Autumn.

RIPPLE TREATMENT

The stores are showing the most beautiful formal coats we have ever seen. Although the coat silhouette is straight, it is the side flare that adds interest. This fullness is created by ripple treatments, semi-detached drapes or panels, or by projecting the overlap. Tiers are also introduced and these appear in amusing ways in both the front and the back of the models, and these are usually straight.

When selecting your Fall coat this season you will be struck by the generous use of fur trimming. Great collars form a flattering frame for the face, and smart gloved hands will peep out from huge and interesting cuffs of fur. Cuffs are deep and peaked, with the point shifted into various positions. The bell cuff that starts at the elbow and ends at the wrist, of fur, is also being shown on some of the smartest coats. The gauntlet cuff is also frequently noted.

BROWN FURS ON BLACK

We noted as we shopped around for our fashion information, that brown furs on black were given much preference. Brown furs, of course, were very prominent, too, on beige fabrics. Fitch is an extremely important fur trimming for Fall, and beaver, kolinsky, lynx, dyed cross fox, badger and black caracul are also much used. Coats for traveling are from rough tweeds in black and white, blue and grey, brown and white, green and white or heather mixtures. The newest are in diagonal, basket or linen weaves. The dressier coats are in soft woolens with a chamois-like surface such as duvetyne, silk broadcloth, velour delaine, broadcloth, velours, wool crepe and kasha-like materials.

One of the most pronounced colors in coats for Fall is red. Green is also shown much more than it has been for many seasons. Beige remains important and grey follows closely, but of all of these, black is accorded first place.

EVENING MODE

The evening mode for Fall is interesting because it is so diversified. The mode of princess line is important and back fullness continues. Two of the most famous Paris costumieres drape the skirt in back and overlapping back panels form a symmetrical train effect. Another well-known designer puts a sprinkled bib kerchief tied in back.

Some of the most important fabrics for evening dresses are printed velvet, satins, moire, chiffon and metal brocades. Hips are swathed closely in gypsy-like girdles that have bodices that are slightly bloused and fullness placed low on the skirt. New neck treatments in evening gowns are pronounced, square neck and V being most important. Evening dresses sponsor length at the back and sides.

Width is expressed in circular cuts and godets and handkerchief drapes are applied to suggest irregular outline at the hips and at the same time to create a feminine appearance. The bodices of evening frocks are cut with longer lines. In afternoon dresses, scarfs are used and some of the smartest that we saw had Bertha-like collars. One of this order presented the collar crossing the back and the shoulders, but not the front of the bodice.

HIP LINE FEATURE OF FROCK

Perhaps the most outstanding feature of the daytime frock for Fall, 1928, is the snug, swathed hip line. The waist line continues at the top of the hip.

The only resemblance that day frocks bear to each other as to neck line is a negative one—not a single dress has a high or fitted collar. One run-about frock on tailored lines has an orange lingerie vestee with a soft, round collar-but all the others are open in some way—round or V-shaped, or knotted, or buttoned, or stitched.

A smart almond-green dress with a square cut-out hem line depends for its general appeal on stitched bands that trim the square neck line (buttoned on the left) that also trim the open cuffs, also buttoned, and trim one side of the crushed girdle. The skirt is a matter of graceful flares fitting smoothly at the hips.

UNEVEN HEM LINE SHOWN

Two dresses with scarfs as the chief accent are shown by the Paris designers. One of these is in black crepe with a four-color scarf caught on one shoulder with the ends hanging. The other is a gay frock of yellow crepe with the handkerchief knotted in front of the left shoulder. A wrapped skirt with an uneven hem line comes next to our attention with a pointed belt line fitted at the hips.

Gray covert cloth makes a smart tailored business dress with a V line neck and a deep yoke to follow it. A point on the front of the yoke on the skirt is a good place for a box plait to start. The hip line is belted with a buckle in front.

DRESS OF BEIGE CREPE

For bridge tea, one might choose a subtle banded dress of beige crepe that almost defies description. The neck line suggests a U shape, but then again, it doesn't stop there. From it two soft panels fall with slanted ends. In the centre of the dress is a narrow, flat panel that catches at the waist and goes on down to the hem. Either side of this panel are flares that suggest the handkerchief drape. The blouse crushes in a soft girdle that finishes in points on the skirt, yoke fashion.

Another bridge tea suggestion is in black satin. A fold of white starts at one shoulder, goes across the back, rolls over like a collar, and continues down the diagonal front opening. It is held in place with bits of bright trimming that seem to be similar to rhinestone buckles. The skirt drapes are pointed tiers that flare. Cuffs are soft folds of white.

FOOTWEAR FOR WOMEN

Some way a woman is considered shod when she wears slippers. Real shoes seem to belong to horse and buggy days, but all kinds of light, dainty footwear are spoken of as shoes. One or two slippers that consist of a heel and a toe and a mere whisp of a strap are called sandals. A firm, stitched Oxford on a high heel is called a brogue—some way it seems as though brogues should be heavy and clumsy and flat heeled.

For evening frocks there are very good designs of fairy lightness. Gold kid and gold paillettes combine with white and gold brocade as one of these. A diamond buckle adorns the slim strap that rests on the instep. The heel is very high. A turquoise-blue crepe de Chine sandal is ready for the dinner gown. Open spaces are very cleverly achieved. A single, narrow strap up the instep joins another strap around to the counters. For a black frock there is a smart sandal of black satin and silver kid designed with much grace and precision.

VARIATION IN SPORT SHOES

Sport shoes are refreshingly bright in various leather combinations. Beige antelope and brown patent leather are effective in one pair. Brown and white lizard with white antelope are especially good in another. Mark the effective points on the counters of the lizard—the binding of the same, the double narrow straps over the instep tied with cord and tassels. Calfskin and lizard also are interesting in an Oxford tie shoe.

Polo clothes are correct when formal, the woman's identical with the man's. An outfit consists of white breeches, brown boots, a sateen vest over a knitted polo skirt, and a white helmet. Informal wear includes tan whipcord breeches, brown field boots, white riding skirt and white helmet.

CLOTHES FOR HUNTING

Shooting clothes seem most snappy in tweed and covert cloth. The comfort of a divided skirt in covert cloth with a shooting jacket over it is evident. Canvas top boots and a gabardine trench raincoat may be useful, too. A heather mixture in tweed makes a sportsmanlike appearance in a suit for Diana the huntress. A wrap-around skirt with a double-breasted jacket, a fitted felt hat and sensible Oxfords finish this outfit.

If one should be compelled to venture forth in the rain, and those women who are deep in club activities and politics will need to go promptly, there are raincoats that are good looking, without the dismal effect that used to be associated with that name. Light-weight silk coats are possible that slip—folded—into a flat envelope when not in use. Heavier coats are also designed of rainproof materials, that may be worn all day if need be. There is nothing about them to suggest rain when the sun shines, and they will be a great blessing to business and club women.

Low Waistline Marks Youthful Mode

THE shifting waistline seems to have changed its mind entirely and become a hipline—at any rate, as far as the mode for misses is concerned. The introduction of the wide suede belt and girdle of crushed velvet seen on so many of the smart afternooon frocks undoubtedly had a great deal to do with this, and we cannot say that we dislike it. The soft bloused lines that have sprung into smartness through this version of the mode are distinctly feminine and flattering.

The frock at the upper left of the illustration is made of satin in a two-piece effect. Two tiers achieve the moulded hipline. The skirt is straight. A pleated jabot falls from the right shoulder and from the centre right of the blouse. A slightly curved V neckline finishes the frock.

Below that is an afternoon frock of charming simplicity. Flat crepe forms the frock, with a circular overskirt of transparent velvet. The moulded hipline is finished softly in front with an odd bow. The youthful version of the V neckline is an interesting note.

In the centre is a frock of jersey, employing two shades of material. In this model the moulded hipline is suggested by the cut of the material. The skirt is pleated only in front, which is an excellent feature for the school girl or business girl. A soft tie falls gracefully below the lapels of the neckline.

Satin fashions the frock at the lower right with its graceful pleated skirt stressing the use of scallops. Cire braid finishes the neckline with the assistance of a soft bow below a rhinestone ornament. Graduated strips of cire braid trim the blouse and form the moulded hipline. The soft belt is called into play again and ties at the left in a charming bow.

The coat to the uper right is an example of the "dressmaker detail" that is so smart an adjunct of the Fall mode in cloth coats. A huge collar of fox shows the head of the animal at the back. Wide soft cuffs finish the sleeves.

Women's Institutes of Vancouver Island

The Garden City Women's Institute will hold a five hundred drive in Marigold Hall this evening at 8 o'clock.

SOCIAL CLUB BEGINS SEASON

SIDNEY, Sept. 13.—The first of the weekly meetings of the members and friends of the Sidney Social Club was held in the clubrooms, Beacon Avenue, on Wednesday evening. There was a good attendance of members, who spent a pleasant time at military five hundred, which was played at four tables. Friendly rivalry resulted in the first prizes being presented to Mrs. A. Critchley, Miss Mamie Lidgate, Mr. Jerry Jackson and Mr. McLaughlan, while the second prizes were awarded to Miss Irene Frost, Mr. Roy Ward, Mr. Angus McDonald and Mr. Kelly Sangster.

Sincere regret was felt among the club members over the news of the death of Mrs. P. N. Tester, who died on Wednesday in Toronto. Mrs. Tester was the founder of the social club and was its president during the first two years, and it was through her energy and foresight that the club exists today.

The bachelor members assisted Mrs. Lidgate with the serving of the dainty refreshments and a social hour was enjoyed.

The monthly meeting of the Women's Guild of the St. Andrew's Church was held at the rectory on Wednesday afternoon. Owing to the absence of the president, Mrs. J. J. White, the vice-president, Mrs. T. Harrison, occupied the chair and opened the meeting, at which there was a good attendance of members.

The afternoon was given over to the arrangements for the forthcoming sale of work, which is to be held in November. Some very beautiful pieces of work were collected and new pieces distributed among the ladies. Many suggestions were received and discussed, and routine matters were disposed of.

The meeting adjourned for tea, which was served by the hostess, and dispersed, to meet again on Wednesday, October 10.

MISS HELEN GUTHRIE IN AUTO ACCIDENT

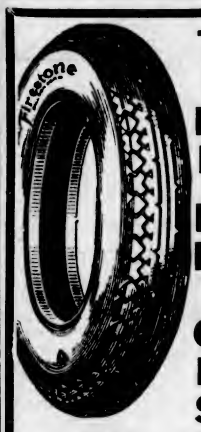

GUELPH, Ont., Sept. 13.—Mrs. Hugh Guthrie, Jr., and Miss Helen Guthrie, daughter-in-law and daughter of Hon. Hugh Guthrie, were seriously injured here yesterday when a motor car which Mrs. Guthrie was driving crashed into a tree. Both sustained broken noses when they were thrown with great force to the front of the car. Wet pavement caused the car to skid.

Delightful Tea Party

Miss Margaret Fletcher entertained at a delightful tea party yesterday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Fletcher, Rockland Avenue, prior to her return to the University of British Columbia. The tea table was effectively arranged with a bowl of Autumn flowers in shades of pink and deep cream, while lighted green tapers were placed in silver holders. Miss Hilda Burton and Miss Betty Savannah poured tea and coffee. Fashion Fancies

By Marie Belmont

The uneven hemline brought a new problem to the designer. What to do with the long fluttery skirts under the evening wrap? Should we have long evening wraps, or should we keep them short?

Here, however, is one solution to the question. A square of metallic brocade, in this case gold, bordered with a band of pink lame, can be wrapped tightly about the figure. Cleverly held, it looks far more like an evening wrap than like a scarf, and you have no idea how becoming is the line it gives to your figure.

TUBERCULOUS VETERANS

The regular monthly meeting of the Tuberculous Veterans Branch of the Canadian Legion has been postponed to Tuesday, September 25, on account of the dinner to be given by the District Council of the Canadian Legion, British Empire Service League, in honor of official delegates, visitors, and members of the Amputation Association, on the occasion of their Dominion convention.

Cabaret To Be Held At Club

Many bridge tables have been reserved and nearly six hundred tickets have been sold for the tea and cabaret to be held tomorrow at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club from 3:30 to 6:30 o'clock in aid of the funds of the Victorian Order of Nurses. A popular orchestra will play for the dancing, and it is expected that outside attractions will prove a delightful feature of the afternoon's entertainment.

An unusually attractive programme has been arranged. Miss Nelle Thacker, dancer and teacher of interpretative dancing, will present a number of her advanced pupils; Mrs. Aldous will sing in Spanish costume; the Misses Bucklin and Miss Gwen Harper will play a trio, and Miss Iona Robertson will give a humorous monologue.

The men of Toc H have been most generous in giving their assistance to the affair, and will have charge of the gate, ice cream stall, cocoanut shies and other outdoor attractions. The weather permitting, there will be sailing and boating, members of the Yacht Club having placed boats at the disposal of the conveners.

Mrs. John Harper is general convener of the affair, assisted by Mrs. Sydney Oliver, Mrs. Yarrow, Mrs. Will Pemberton and Miss Merrick. The order has made itself a vital force in the community, and is in need of additional funds to meet the heavy expenses in connection with the nursing. While very small fees are charged to those who can afford to pay for the assistance given by the nurses, a great deal of gratuitous work is done each month, and for this free nursing further funds are needed. The convener and her committee have given much time and thought to the afternoon's programme, and it is hoped that a large sum will result from their efforts.

Women's Clubs and Societies

St. Andrew's Guild

The Women's Guild of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church resumed its monthly meetings last Monday afternoon with a good attendance of members. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. J. POPE PIUS ISSUES THIRD ENCYCLICAL

ROME, Sept. 13.—Pope Pius XI, in the third encyclical of 1928 issued today, returned to the theme of the first, the unity of the Christian church.

While the first encyclical of the year was directed to all non-Roman Christians, notably those Anglicans who were thought by the Vatican to be veering toward a union with Rome, this new papal plea was especially directed toward the communicants of the Oriental churches which Rome considers schismatic.

Weddings

MILLS—PARKER

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the St. Mary's Church, Kerrisdale, on Saturday evening, September 8, when Edith Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Parker, of Chilliwack, became the bride of Dr. Stanley Gordon Mills, of Rock Bay, Vancouver Island. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Antle, in a setting of Autumnal flowers. Soft music was played by the organist during the service. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a traveling dress of cocoa brown georgette over crepe de Chine, a small close-fitting French hat of brown and gold and a stone marten neckpiece. She was preceded up the aisle by her bridesmaid, Miss Beth McGillivray, of Chilliwack, whose smart frock was of rose beige georgette. She wore a smart hat to match and her flowers were pale pink carnations. Dr. Mills was supported by Mr. Gordon Parker, brother of the bride.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Robert Ryder, only immediate relatives being present. Mrs. Herbert Parker wore a handsome gown of black crepe back satin and matching hat. Poudre blue crepe de Chine was chosen by Mrs. Ryder, while Mrs. G. Gordon Mills wore a silver grey lace ensemble and small grey hat. Dr. and Mrs. Mills left on a trip to Victoria and the Gulf Islands.

Basketball Team Dance

NANAIMO, Sept. 13.—The Felix Five basketball team were hostesses to about forty-five couples at their initial dance held in the G.W.V.A. Hall last evening. An orchestra supplied snappy music and all present were given a gala time. The hall was artistically decorated in patriotic colors, and Felix, a black kitten placed in a bird cage, was suspended in the centre of the room. Several prizes were given for various events during the evening and when the music stopped for the spot waltz, Felix, the kitten, was given a new home. Refreshments were served.

PERKINS REACHES SEMI-FINALS IN U.S. GOLF

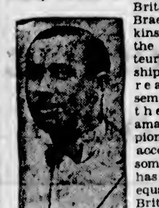

British Columbia Senior "B" Ball Play-Offs Will Open Here This Afternoon

British Titleholder Puts Away Dawson in Thrilling Match, 3-1

Will Play George Voight Today — Jones Defeats British Walker Cup Player by Overwhelming Count of 14-13—Dr. Willing Out

By WALTER HAGEN
British Open Golf Champion
American Professional Golf Champion
(Special to The Colonist and the North American Newspaper Alliance.)
(Copyright 1928, in all countries, by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

BRAEBURN COUNTRY CLUB, NEWTON, Mass., Sept. 13.—Thomas Phillip Perkins is doing his bit for British golf at Braeburn. Perkins, who holds the British amateur championship title, has reached the semi-finals of the American amateur championship, thus accomplishing something which has not been equalled by a British golfer since Harold Hilton, in 1911, won the American championship at Rye, New York.

WALTER HAGEN

Harold Hilton, of course, was a great golfer, but he had no such field of American amateurs to contend with in 1911 as Perkins has here at Braeburn, and if Perkins goes no further he has done a good job.

Perkins meets George Voight tomorrow in the upper half of the semi-finals and this match looks like an even thing. Voight remains as impressive as ever, but Perkins appears to be getting better, and he has an ideal match play temperament.

Perkins won today from Johnny Dawson. They played par golf all day, the British champion's advantage being very thin but he hit the ball just a little firmer in the pinches, putted just a little better and used sounder judgment, so that he had the edge all the way after the fourth hole in the afternoon.

Dawson was three down at the twenty-eighth hole and by hard fighting won two of these back, but the Englishman never really looked like losing control of the match.

PERKINS IMPRESSIVE

It is not an unwelcome thing in golf to have a British player giving our men some real competition in the amateur championship; the fact is that American golfers, both amateurs and professionals, have had the upper hand in international golf for some time and Perkins' play at Braeburn has been interesting. A capacity crowd will undoubtedly turn out tomorrow to see the British champion battle with Voight, the new sensation of American amateur golf.

Perkins is a sound golfer. He is by shots the best player on the British Walker Cup team, and besides winning the British amateur championship he was the low amateur in the British open. He has three outstanding qualities as a golfer. He hits the ball with great firmness; he has tremendous power and he maintains his self composure at all times.

At match play, at least, he must be rated as a winning golfer, as opposed to those who can be rated as losing golfers. By this I mean that in anything like equal golfing company he will win a majority of his starts.

The seventeenth hole at Braeburn is one of the most testing three par holes in America and requires, under usual conditions, a long iron or spoon to get home, and the ball must be hit hard and straight. I have seen Perkins play this hole a number of times with wood against the wind and with iron on calm days and he has been hitting the best shots to this green of any man in the field.

He looks on the tee as if he intended to hit the target. He hits the ball with that firmness which is necessary to make it hold the line and it finishes on the green, or has every time I have seen him play the hole. If I had only seen him play this shot once I would know that he is a real golfer.

At noon today after the first eighteen holes with Dawson, Perkins was leading one up, and I spoke to him about his match being a good one. He said:

"He's a tough customer."

But he said it in a way to indicate that he felt confident of winning, even if the opposition was "tough."

Picking the winner between Perkins and Voight is no easy job. It looks to me, having observed both players for four days like what they call in the Old Country a "near thing."

I am now convinced that Voight has got the best "third shot" in the field. Every time he misses the target with his second he chips up within an easy putt of the hole. He must be an average of even fours for all the holes he has played. He had just a little too much finesse around the putting greens today for the hard working Doctor Willing, of Portland, and won the game, 4 and 3.

PICKED WILLING

I picked Dr. Willing to win because I didn't think any golfer could keep getting down in two strokes or one putt, no matter if he missed the green with his second or not, but Voight seems to keep on doing it. His putting touch, which was so fine in the qualifying test, stays with him. If it lasts the week out, he may become the next champion, although I have picked Jones to win and will stick to this selection.

As far as the Perkins-Voight match is concerned, I have made a small wager of $5 on Voight, but it would not surprise me much if the British champion came through to the finals. It should be a great game and it will certainly be a bit of a novelty and a welcome one to see a British amateur making a real fight of it in the semi-finals of the American championship.

The other semi-finals brings Bobby Jones into conflict with Phillips Findlay. The Jones match today was completed before the business men had time to answer their mail and get out to the Braeburn Club. Jones played John Beck, one of the British team, and won by the unkind figure of 14 and 13. I followed part of this and having played Archie Compston at Moor Park once, I knew just how Beck felt.

Jones started in by winning something like five of the first seven holes and after that the gallery went looking for the other games, for competition is more attractive than watching the master player when he gets that far in front. Jones had a 70 in the morning, while Beck was doing an 85. Beck was twelve down at luncheon.

JONES FAVORITE

Jones is a favorite to beat Findlay and the long-hitting young man from Harvard, New York and California, only has an outside chance of beating Jones in a thirty-six-hole match. Jones has evidently hit his Minneapolis stride and intends to run rough shod over the field from now on.

I can hear O. B. Keeler, the Atlanta scribe, having a laugh for himself at the other end of the press cope. He is in much better shape than he was last night after the Jones-Gorton match, when he looked as if he needed smelling salts upon his return to press headquarters.

Findlay defeated Harrison R. Johnston, of St. Paul, 2 and 1, today in a game that was fought all the way to the thirty-fifth green with never much to chose between the players.

Record Set for Number of Putts on Round

By AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher, New York Giants)

Just what is the world's record for the fewest number of putts made in playing eighteen holes of golf?

Charley Windle, of the Park Ridge, Ill., Country Club, claims he made a world's record recently when he went around his course and used only twenty-three putts, in eighteen holes, using only one putt each on the first ten holes. To settle this controversy I am appealing to the golfers of the United States and Canada. If any golfer has ever played eighteen holes, using only twenty-three or less putts for the round, will he tell me how, when and where he did it? I will be glad to give him the publicity his feat demands.

Speaking of putts, Al Espinosa told me recently of the greatest exhibition of putting he ever saw.

"I was playing a young fellow by the name of Derr," said Al, "and I played golf that would have won for me nine times out of ten, but here is what Derr did with his magic putter;

"Morning round—Third hole: Went around a stymie with a 25-foot putt and won the hole. Seventh: Sank a 30-foot putt for a par 5 to halve the hole. Eighth: Went around a stymie on a sloping green with a 15-foot putt to halve. Tenth: Dropped a 20-footer for birdie 3 to win. Sixteenth: Ran down another 20-footer to halve after chipping short; Eighteenth: Holed out a 30-foot putt to halve after missing his second.

"Afternoon round—Third hole: Ran down a 15-footer on a sloping green for a half. Thirteenth: With my ball on the green of a 203-yard hole for a sure 3, sank a 45-foot putt over an undulating green for a birdie 2 to win. Seventeenth: Dropped a 25-footer for a birdie 3 to win the hole and match. It got so I turned my back on him again and again just to hear the old cup ring. I couldn't bear to watch the putts dropping in from every corner of the green."

Pastor Fails to Finish

REV. William Fraser, the "swimming parson," assistant to Dr. T. T. Shields, noted Toronto Baptist pastor, was the last Toronto swimmer to quit the men's section of the third Wrigley marathon. Fraser was taken out by his brother, shown standing, after doing five miles in six hours. He covered twice that distance in last year's race. In the picture are also seen the swimmer's two children. The pastor was in good condition when he retired, suffering from neither cold nor cramps, but realized it might endanger his health to continue.

Victoria Capitals To Meet Britannia Beach Aggregation

Capital City's Last Hope in Quest of Provincial Baseball Honors Will Go Into Battle Tonight Against Crack Miners

The Capital City's last chance of grabbing provincial baseball honors will be given its first test today, when the Capitals, Vancouver Island League champions, battle Britannia Beach in the first game of the Senior "B" play-offs at the Royal Athletic Park at 4:45 o'clock. The second game will be played here tomorrow at 2 o'clock.

It had been previously arranged for the local squad to travel to Vancouver tonight and meet the miners in a double-header on Saturday. At a late hour last night Matt Hunter, president of the British Columbia Amateur Baseball Association, was advised that in view of the fact that the Britannia Beach team had been away from work almost a week, they would like to speed up the series in order to get back to their jobs early next week. In order to comply with this request, the bosses of the provincial body were able to make arrangements for the two games to be played in Victoria.

LOCAL FANS PLEASED

Local ball fans will relish this announcement just as a hungry man would relish a beefsteak. It has been some time since the Capital City's fans have been offered the opportunity of witnessing two play-off games on their home diamond.

Victoria's chances of winning the championship look better at this stage than they have for a number of seasons. The Capitals have demonstrated they are a real contending club and their management feels confident they will be able to take the miners under for two straight.

In tonight's game, Norm Forbes, their first string pitcher, will go to the mound in an effort to heave his teammates to victory, while Bill Moore will complete the battery. The remaining personnel of the club from which the team will be selected is as follows: Ross Oatman, Art Minnis, Heb Cummings, Art Webster, Murty Dunn, Jack McKenzie, Jack Curtis, Tommy Wachter, J. Noble, T. Bowden and Cy Milne.

ARE RATED HIGH

Britannia Beach are rated as a snappy aggregation and will treat the fans to plenty of good ball. They fought their way to the semi-final by defeating ten of the best senior "B" teams in the province and now they are out gunning for the scalps of the Victoria Capitals. Their twirling staff includes Cadenhead, a right hander, and Kozak, a southpaw. Clark, their catcher, is reported as one of the best in the loop. The balance of the team will be as follows: Evett cf, Tolmie 3b, Hayden 2b, Sinclair ss, Neilson 1b, Runge lf, and Wilson rf.

Semi-Finals in Canadian Golf to Be Played Today

Miss Helen Paget, Royal Ottawa, Canada's Last Remaining Player, Will Meet Miss Wattles, Buffalo, N.Y.

MONTREAL, Sept. 13.—Semi-final matches in the Canadian women's golf championship at Beaconfield tomorrow afternoon will feature an international clash and an all-United States contest. In the upper half game, Miss Virginia Wilson, of Owentia, Ills., plays Mrs. Lee Mida, of Chicago. In the lower half, Miss Helen Paget, Royal Ottawa, Canada's lone remaining hope in the titular quest, plays Miss Peggy Wattles, Buffalo, N.Y.

Entering the championship highly favored, Miss Mida added to her title prospects today by two sweeping victories, in which she defeated the defending champion, Miss Helen Payson, of Portland, Me., five and four, on the morning round, and Mrs John Ardens, Chicago, in the quarter-finals in the afternoon, six and five.

INTEREST FOR GALLERY

Much of the interest for the gallery today was in the play of the two Eastern Canadians, Miss Dora Virtue, of Montreal, and Miss Helen Paget, of Ottawa. These two were the only players from the Dominion to reach the quarter-finals. Miss Virtue advanced in the morning through a brilliant two and one victory over Miss Edith Quier, while Miss Paget scored her second round win at the expense of Mrs. Toerget, of the United States National, two and one.

The two keen rivals of Quebec provincial golf battled through a stirring contest before Miss Paget triumphed on the sixteenth, three and two.

Miss Virginia Wilson and Miss Peggy Wattles scored handily in both their respective matches in the semi-finals. Miss Wilson beat the youthful Miss Marjorie Hayden, of Schenectady, N.Y., and later triumphed over Mrs. Dalton Raymond, Baton Rouge, La.

Miss Wattles eliminated Mrs. S. Blaicklock, Montreal, and then triumphed over Mrs. Jane Brooks, of Nyack, N.Y., five and four.

In the second round of the championship consolation flight, Miss Marion Wilson, of Victoria, B.C., British Columbia title holder, was defeated by Miss Evelyn Mills, Ottawa, one up.

TO SELL ALL HORSES

All bloodstock holdings of the late James Cox Brady, New York financier, will be held at public auction near Lexington, Ky., early in March.

LADIES' SOFTBALL TEAMS WILL CLASH

Connaughts of Vancouver Coming for B.C. Championship Tussle With Rainbows

The Connaughts ladies' softball team, champions of the Mainland League, will be here tomorrow to do battle with the Rainbows, local titleholders, in a sudden death game for the first ladies' softball championship of British Columbia. The game will be played at the Royal Athletic Park at 3:15 o'clock.

The visitors won the honors in Vancouver by two straight wins over South Hill, and have their optics on the provincial title. Victoria boasts of its Rainbows, who have been the class of the local league and consider them strong enough to take the measure of the invaders.

In addition to the championship tussle, base running, throwing the softball and batting the softball competitions will be carried out.

Prizes Presented

At the regular monthly meeting of the Victoria Ladies' Lawn Bowling Club held in the clubrooms at Beacon Hill, prizes were presented to the winning ladies in the club games as follows:

Club singles—Mrs. J. P. Owens.
Club doubles—Mrs. A. S. Huxtable and Mrs. J. P. Owens.
Novice singles—Mrs. J. L. White.

CARLISLE UNITED WIN

Overweight: Tennessee (4), Catch Me (1). Standing start good. Won driving to the limit. Eagle's Home, from a fast inside break, forced the issue throughout and stood a long drive nobly. Clairmonde Hope, pinched off at the break, was rushed into contention quickly and gave her best. Tuxedo Sam well ridden closed with a powerful rush and would have won in another stride. Greekling ran a good race.

Eagle's Home Pays $22.80 on Nose in Final Race of Day

Increase in Attendance at Colwood Track and Jump in Betting Indicates Track Fans Realize Close of Racing Season in B.C. Is at Hand

When Eagle's Home, a chestnut gelding from the Aristides Stables, caught the judges' eye in the last race at Colwood yesterday, he not only paid the best price of the day, but he spoilt what looked like a perfect card for public choice mounts. He paid $22.80 straight; $15.35 place and $13.20 show.

It was easily seen from the crowd in attendance yesterday that the punters are fully realizing that only two more days of racing on British Columbia tracks are left for the 1928 season. Betting showed a decided jump, while the crowd looked one of the best that has been on hand for the week, with the exception of that on Wednesday.

The card that has been prepared for today looks on a level with those of previous days, with large fields and promises of good races.

A THRILLING FINISH

The most thrilling finish on the card, and it certainly was a thriller, was in the fifth race, the Juvenile Handicap, over five and one-half furlongs. Norton, the winner, with Collins up, came up in the last stride, in the drive home, to take the honors from Extension by a nose. The latter was second, while Wooley Meteor was third. Lovecharm, the odds-on favorite, did not show much early speed, but was moving fast at the end.

Again in the seventh race the punters were given an added thrill, not only in the exciting finish of Eagle's Home, the winner, and Tuxedo Sam, the second horse, but by the double-figure prices displayed on the mutuel board facing the grandstand. The first two horses won by a head, but Clairmonde Hope, the snow mount, who by the way paid $11, finished away in front of the remainder of the field.

There was nothing to it for Judge Hickam, who won the curtain raiser handily. The winner, well ridden by Pollard, was out in front all of the way. Albert L., second throughout, was vigorously ridden to last out and take the place from Carlisle.

STAYS IN FRONT

After taking the lead at the three-quarter, Felicitous stayed out in front of the field and won in the clear. Tee Hee, well up all the way, forced the issue and held on long enough to run second. Irish Jury closed fast and took the show money.

Opening daylight on her field at the three-eighths post, Moon Child walked off with the honors in the fourth. Miss Fountain closed fast in the drive home and robbed the tiring Tatters just before reaching the wire.

Finding the track to his liking, Cleo's Rochester went out in front shortly after the break and was never headed. Shadow Spark came fast going for home and grabbed second honors. Torsida nosed out The Chamberlain for the show position in the last stride.

John Frankyln took advantage of Yorkshire Maid, going wide after entering the stretch and went in the lead and got the decision in the sixth race. St. Martin's challenged the winner, but could not get up.

How should clubs be stored when they are not to be used for some time?

By LARRY NABHOLTZ

When clubs are not to be used for some time they should be cleaned, the shafts rubbed with oil, any loose grips or wrappings put in order and stored in a cool, dry place, preferably lying across a table. Be sure there are no steampipes or heaters of any kind near the clubs.

Olympic Sensation To Be Honored in His Home Town

Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Premier of British Columbia, Will Extend Welcome—Parade One Mile in Length Will Mark Return of Athletic Hero

VANCOUVER, Sept. 13.—Percy Williams will be honored by his home city of Vancouver tomorrow for his Olympic triumphs.

The young sprinter will arrive here at 9:30 a.m. After he has been welcomed at the station a parade which is expected to consist of 7,000 to 8,000 persons, will escort him to Brockton Point, or in event of rain, to the Arena. The parade will extend for a mile behind the athlete. Led by the band of the Vancouver Regiment and a contingent of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police as a guard of honor, it will include automobiles and floats from various city clubs, 2,500 school children of Greater Vancouver and athletes in uniform representative of every phase of sporting activity on the Pacific Coast.

At Brockton Point Williams will be welcomed by Premier S. F. Tolmie. He will be presented with an automobile on behalf of the citizens of Vancouver.

Later, school sports will be had on the oval.

The Williams Fund, raised by public subscription, is now over $13,000.

Island Road Club

There will be a meeting of the Island Road Club this evening at 8 o'clock, to make arrangements for the final road race of the 1928 season, scheduled for September 16. All members, either riding in the event or acting as stewards, are asked to be present. Entries for the race, confined to club members only, must be in the secretary's hands by tonight.

The club run held recently to Lake Crescent via Port Angeles, proved to be very popular with the members, nine of whom went over on Ss. Olympic, and then rode to the lake, where a picnic lunch was held, returning to Port Angeles for the 6 o'clock ferry.

Exhibition Games

TOLEDO, Sept. 13.—The Yankees, with Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig doing their specialties, defeated Toledo, of the American Association, 8-6, in an exhibition game here today. The Yank home-run twins each cleared the right field wall in the fourth. The bases were empty each time. Ruth played first base today, while Gehrig covered the right.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 13. — The Red Sox, appearing on a Pittsburgh diamond for the first time in a quarter of a century, defeated the Pirates here today in an exhibition game, 5-1.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 13.—Collecting half of his team's eight hits, Heinie Manush, left fielder, boosted his second place batting average to .375, over Lou Gehrig of the Yanks, today as the Browns bested the Chicago White Sox, 6 to 4. Manush, who trails "Goose" Goslin of the Senators for American League batting honors, connected with a circuit wallop, a two-bagger and a pair of singles in as many times to the plate.

COAST LEAGUE

PORTLAND, Sept. 13.—With Dutch Reuther in great form San Francisco took the opening game from Portland in easy fashion, 7 to 3. All three Portland runs, scored in the seventh, with two out on successive errors by Jolly, who dropped a fly and Reuther on a dropped throw at first.

World's Fastest Sprinter Pure Canuck

WHEN the "dark horse" of the Olympic team, the twenty-year-old Canadian hero of hte Olympic sprint, flung himself past the post in the 100 metres, everybody at Amsterdam wanted to know who he was and where he sprang from. All they knew was that Williams was "some runner." After the Canadian had completed the "double" with a brilliant win in the 200 metres, one United States visitor discovered that he knew all about him. "Sure he is a Canadian-born," he said, but he picked up all his running at New York University." All of which, of course, is a lot of poppycock. Williams was born and bred in Vancouver, did all his running there and is a Canadian of Canadians. After his tremendous success, all that he said was that he was glad that he won for Canada's sake and the encouragement it would give to sport in his native land. Great is Williams.

DUNCAN FOLK FOR PROPOSED HEALTH UNIT

Meeting at City Hall Goes on Record Favoring Plan If It Is Found Feasible—Would Benefit District

DELAY IS ADVISED BY DR. H. P. SWAN

DUNCAN, Sept. 13.—Dr. H. E. Young, provincial health superintendent, and Dr. Coverington, of the Rockefeller Foundation, addressed a meeting at the City Hall last night on the proposed establishment of a provincial health unit in this district, in charge of a full time health officer specially trained in health work, who would devote all his time to prevention of disease, but would not indulge in private practice.

In the absence of Mayor Mutter, who is attending the Municipal Convention in Trail, Reeve Evans presided, and there were present in addition, Councillors Price, Coates and Paul, of North Cowichan; Aldermen Evans, March and Lee, of Duncan; Dr. H. P. Swan, Dr. E. L. Garner, Mr. G. H. Johnson, members of the health centre nursing staff; Mrs. Moss, O.B.E.; Mrs. T. Pitt, Mrs. R. H. Whidden, Mrs. Tisdall, Miss Tisdall, Mrs. F. G. Christmas, Miss M. Leeming, and others.

Dr. Young told of what the Government was doing to improve the health of the people. Medical health officers in private practice did not feel inclined to enforce the health regulations, and a specially trained man who had no patients to treat was desirable. He told of the three health centres already established in Saanich, Kelowna and Trail, and of the good work being accomplished. There was nothing compulsory about the scheme.

GIVES SURVEY

Dr. Coverington said the population of the proposed district was about 7,000. The ordinary mortuary tables for a district such as this showed that there would be ninety-eight deaths per year in the area, of which forty were due to preventable diseases. Nine of these would be due to consumption, four to cancer, three to typhoid fever, twelve to infantile diseases, and seven to preventable children's diseases. There would be an average of 140 sick persons in bed every day. Taking the economic value of a human life at $1,800, the elimination of the forty deaths due to preventable causes would mean a saving to the community of $72,000. He estimated the cost of a specially trained full-time physician and three nurses as at present, as $8,000 per year. Of this amount twenty-five per cent would be paid by the province, twenty-five per cent by the Rockefeller Foundation, and the balance by the district served.

The speaker told how health experts had transformed the Panama Canal belt from a white man's graveyard to a health resort, with a death rate lower than the average district in the United States. He also quoted figures showing the result of such work in various parts of Canada and the United States.

Dr. Swan asked how the department proposed to control an outbreak of infantile paralysis. Dr. Young replied. He said this was a rare disease that the average physician never saw and could not recognize it in its early stages. The proper thing, he said, was to treat all possible cases as probable cases and to isolate. He spoke of the outbreak of this disease in this district a year ago and the demands made on his department for quarantine regulations of an impractical kind. The great danger in this disease was that of transmission of germs by "carriers," most frequently adults.

ADVISES A DELAY

Dr. Swan said he found the address interesting. He realized the importance to the community of the matter and was heartily in accord with any measure which might be of benefit. The question was one which should be approached in a broad way. It had many angles. He noticed some discrepancies in figures. The question of cost should not be lost sight of, and "the councils should not bite off more than they can chew." He wanted to know whether the district could afford it, what the additional expenses were, what practical results might be expected, had disease been reduced in districts where the scheme had operated, and how long would the Rockefeller Foundation continue its assistance? He said "Utopian schemes" were not always practical. He might order a patient to go to Florida for his health, but it was of no use if the patient had not the money to go. He thought the scheme a costly experiment and advocated that it be shelved for three years until the results had been noted in the three districts where it had been introduced.

Dr. Young expressed surprise at Dr. Swan's attitude. He claimed that most of the points raised had already been dealt with by Dr. Coverington and himself. The cost would be little, if any, greater than the present scheme. The Rockefeller Foundation would pay its twenty-five per cent for two years, and a smaller percentage for three years more. Dr. Young asked for the source of Dr. Swan's information, which was given, but Dr. Young said his figures were accurate as all accounts in connection with the scheme had to go through his department.

On motion of Trustee Thorpe, seconded by Mrs. Moss, it was resolved that the councils be asked to "endeavor to have the scheme put into effect if found feasible."

A vote of thanks to the speakers was carried unanimously.

QUALICUM BOARD HOLDS MEETING

Further Action Taken to Obtain Perpetual Reservation of Choice Timber at Cameron Lake

QUALICUM BEACH, Sept. 13. — The monthly meeting of the council of the Qualicum Beach Board of Trade was held on Wednesday evening in the Community Hall, when several matters of importance were dealt with.

The action of the special committee appointed to obtain mooring buoys for visiting yachts and launches was approved.

Further action was taken with a view to the reservation of the stand of timber at Cameron Lake, which, it is claimed, is probably the best now left untouched, and it is hoped that this will be preserved forever.

Road matters were gone into with an eye to future needs. A suggestion by a gasoline company that it would erect signs illustrating the district was rejected, as it was considered that the beauties of the local highways were such as to need no artificial adornment.

Plans were formed for the development of local attractions and arrangements initiated for providing a restroom for tourists.

SERVICE AT COLWOOD

Service will be held in St. John's Church, Colwood, on Sunday, at 11 o'clock.

Donald, the ghillie, is supposed to be telling this story to his pal, Angus, after the day's shoot on the moor is over:

"Yes, Angus, me poy, the Laird was ferry, ferry angry with Donal' today. Ye see, Angus, it was this way. Ye know that we had what they call an English bishop in the party, an' he was one of my guns. The Laird had giffen me orders to call him 'Your Grace' whenefter I spoke to him or he to me, an' I did it all the day long, until that last drive o' the birds.

"But I was so excitit an' angry, Angus, what with him missin' effery time an' me havin' had four or six nips oot o' Macallister's pottle, that when two grand birds came direct for him I shouted out, 'Now or neffer, dam it, yer holiness!' An' the way he lookit at me, Angus, I knew at once that 'Yer holiness' was the wrong way to address the man!"—Harry Lauder.

Mistress—Why is there no sherry in the trifle?

Maid—There's no sherry, ma'am.

Mistress—But I gave the cook the bottle this morning!

Maid—Yes, ma'am. There's no cook neither, ma'am—not as a cook, so to speak!

Further Awards at Metchosin Fall Fair

LUXTON, Sept. 13.—In the children's section of the Fall Fair were some excellent designs and models, one of outstanding merit being made by the Sooke School, showing the village, harbor, roads, river, etc., in color and to scale.

In the poultry judging competition the judge remarked that the standard was up to that of eighteen-year-old students at the New Westminster Fair. In particular Greta Hebden, winner in the girls' section, stood out above all. Bronze medals will be given the first prize winners in each section. The results were as follows:

Girls—1, Greta Hebden; 2, Pamela Bennet; 3, Edith Walsh; 4, Cicely Bennet. Twelve entered.

Boys—1, Kenneth Hincks; 2, Jack Brown; 3, Gordon Walsh; 4, J. Wilkinson. Ten entered.

AMUSEMENTS

Capitol—Jack Holt in "The Water Hole."

Columbia—"The Long Gospel," starring Ken Maynard.

Dominion—Victor McLagen in "The River Pirate."

Playhouse—"The Escape," with Virginia Valli.

Coliseum—John Gilbert in "Cameo Kirby."

Variety—"Bertha, the Sewing Machine Girl," starring Madge Bellamy.

COLISEUM THEATRE Jack McDonald, prominent in the supporting cast of "Cameo Kirby," the Fox Films reissue with John Gilbert in the title role now playing at the Coliseum Theatre, is the same slam-bang individual who staged a husky fight with Tom Mix in "Soft Boiled." McDonald is a great two-fisted scrapper. On the stage Lee Jaxon and players are proving to be a great hit in their first showing here for many years. Judging by the applause they got last night in their play entitled "Jerry's Honeymoon," a clever dramatic farce, it looks as though they will be here for a long time.

CAPITOL THEATRE Another Zane Grey master story makes a Paramount master picture. That is the only way to describe the gorgeous spectacle and gripping story which audiences at the Capitol Theatre applauded heartily at its first showing in this city last night. "The Water Hole," With Jack Holt in the lead role and Nancy Carroll supporting, seems headed for universal screen honors. On the stage there is an entirely new programme of musical specialties. The acts include Doby and Lou, two clever harmony soloists; Edyth Knapp, harp soloist, and Cameran and Camerons, Scotch comedians supreme; Harold Bechtel, the singing announcer, and the Capitol Concert Orchestra.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE Thrilling night scenes, dramatic gun battles, intense love sequences and a good smattering of human interest, are the highlights in "The Escape," a Fox Films production which is pleasing hundreds of fans afternoon and evening at the Playhouse Theatre. Fox made no mistake when he cast this picture. Virginia Valli as May Joyce is superb. Her acting, which seems to improve with each Fox release, is the essence of perfection in this screen version of Paul Armstrong's play.

COLUMBIA THEATRE One of the fastest, most dramatic and powerful Western pictures to be shown in many a day—that is "The Long Gospel," starring that most magnetic of all Western stars, Ken Maynard, which opened yesterday at the Columbia Theatre for a three-day run. It is a First National picture and was produced by Charles R. Rogers. Never has he been seen to undertake such dangerous stunts as he essays in "The Long Gospel."

VARIETY THEATRE Madge Bellamy, resourceful Fox Films star, who has the feminine lead in "Bertha, the Sewing Machine Girl," now at the Variety Theatre, is one of the best-read girls in the motion picture colony, but she has another accomplishment of equal importance: she writes remarkably well. While Irving Cummings was directing "Bertha" in New York, Miss Bellamy was actively engaged with fountain pen and portable typewriter.

DOMINION THEATRE Those who have read "The River Pirate," by Charles Coe, which recently ran in The Saturday Evening Post and which is now at the Dominion Theatre, will recall, most of all, that it was primarily the story of a boy who never had a chance until he met the girl who plucked him from a life of crime and brought him back to decency and to her. Victor McLaglen plays the stellar role of the river pirate with his companion enacted by Nick Stuart, and Lois Moran as the girl in the case, while Earle Foxe is in the part of the double crossing "shark."

TRAPPING LICENCES UNDER DISCUSSION

Nanaimo Rod and Gun Association Interested in Subject—To Make Membership Drive

NANAIMO, Sept. 13.—The Nanaimo Rod and Gun Association met last evening under the chairmanship of President McKinney. Secretary V. B. Harrison reported having attended the meeting of the Game Conservation Board in Vancouver last month, at which resolutions recommended by the local association had been adopted in toto.

The question of trapping licences on Vancouver Island was discussed by the meeting last evening at length, it being the opinion of various members that the law, which applies to all Mainland points, should not be operative on Vancouver Island on account of the amount of privately-owned lands on the Island. Mr. T. B. Booth, member of the Game Conservation Board, was present, and informed the meeting that the system of trap-line registration had proved beneficial throughout the province, both to the trapper and the province in the preservation of fur, and he saw no reason why the same conditions as existed on the Mainland should not apply to Vancouver Island. It was finally decided to leave the metter to the secretary to secure further data re trapping on the Island, and pending such information, the local association will make no recommendations on the question.

The financial statement, as presented by the secretary, showed a good cash balance on hand, but it was considered that the membership was small in view of the number of gun licences held in Nanaimo and district. It was decided to institute a drive for new members, the secretary being instructed to obtain membership cards, which insure membership for one year.

Cedar Hill Beats Langford at Tennis

LANGFORD, Sept. 13.—A game was played by the Langford Tennis Club against the Cedar Hill team, on the Cedar Hill grounds on Wednesday afternoon, resulting in a win for Cedar Hill by a score of 87 to 68. The score follows, Langford players being mentioned first:

MEN'S DOUBLES

A. N. Brown and A. F. Bayles were defeated by H. Little and C. E. King, 4-11.

E. Le Quesne and H. A. Hincks lost to W. Peden and C. Durand, 7-8.

A. N. Brown and E. Le Quesne beat Messrs. Francis and Scott, 12-3.

LADIES' DOUBLES

Mrs. Le Quesne and Mrs. F. A. Sparks lost to Miss B. Harris and Miss Christopher, 3-12.

Mrs. H. A. Hincks and Mrs. Hodgkinson lost to Miss Ryall and Miss Hemeon, 4-7.

MIXED DOUBLES

Mr. and Mrs. E. Le Quesne lost to Miss B. Harris and Mr. Francis, 7-8.

Mr. A. N. Brown and Mrs. Sparks lost to Miss Christopher and King, 7-8.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hincks won from Miss Ryall and Durand, 8-7.

Mr. Bayles and Miss Hodgkinson lost to Miss Hemeon and Peden, 5-10.

Mr. A. N. Brown and Mrs. Sparks lost to Miss B. Harris and Little, 6-9.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Le Quesne won from Miss Christopher and Scott, 5-4.

Her Dancing Partner: "The band isn't very good, is it?"

The Girl: "It is having trouble keeping time with you."

"Do you read the health hints?"

"Not all of them. In my efforts to keep out of the hospital I limit myself to a study of the traffic regulations."

Fruit and Flowers Are Among Finest Exhibits

Dry Weather Causes Some Falling Off in Field Crops and Roots at Comox Fall Fair—New Grounds Crowded With Visitors

COURTENAY, Sept. 13.—A magnificent display of tree fruits and a profusion of lovely flowers featured the hall exhibits of the Comox Agricultural Association's Fall Fair which commenced here on Tuesday.

The domestic science classes were also very heavy and the judges were working until a late hour to complete the placings. Field crops and roots showed a falling off compared with previous years and have perhaps been affected by weather conditions of the season.

The new and extensive grounds present a scene of much activity with the numerous commercial and amusement concessions. Fine weather came for the opening day, following clouds and rain earlier this week. A large number of people are in town for the annual event.

The fair was officially opened by Premier Tolmie.

President W. A. B. Paul said that Dr. Tolmie needed no introduction to the Comox Valley. Premier Tolmie made a careful inspection of the produce and livestock exhibits before mounting the platform. He said it afforded him great pleasure to be here. He was very pleased to find that the Comox Agricultural Society had amalgamated with the city in acquiring the beautiful new grounds, which he felt sure would be adequate for all needs for many years to come. He particularly praised several individual entries in the stock classes, including the young stock. The very fine exhibit of swine in the boys and girls' classes was of great educational value; and would tend to overcome the difficulty of keeping the young people on the land.

He spoke in optimistic terms of the future of agriculture in the province and made a clear-cut comparison of its great area compared with the States of Washington, Oregon and California. It speaks a good deal for the fruit exhibit here, where the tables were well filled, when Dr. Tolmie said he has seen none better at any fair this year.

Besides some of the directors of the association, Mr. Alec Urquhart was also on the platform. The Premier referred to Mr. Urquhart as a pioneer of British Columbia and a man of whom the district and the province might well be proud. The Government proposed to co-operate closely with the farmers, in order to help them solve their marketing problems, he said.

Lott Eliminates Doeg By Straight Sets in Forest Hills Tennis

Tilden's Protege Playing Great Tennis Game and Expected to Reach Finals—Cochet Only Remaining French Player

By VINCENT RICHARDS
American Professional Tennis Champion and former Davis Cup star.
(Copyright, 1928, by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., Sept. 13.—Four Americans, one Australian and one Frenchman still are in the running for the forty-seventh national men's singles championship now in progress on the turf courts of the Westside Tennis Club.

George Lott, member of the United States Davis Cup team, and the most promising younger player in the country at the present time, started the day off with a clean-cut victory over Johnny Doeg in three straight sets, 6-2, 6-2, 7-5.

Doeg was never really in the running today with the hard-hitting Chicago boy. Lott had every stroke working to perfection and seemed to find less difficulty with Doeg's terrific service than the other players he has opposed.

As I have said before, I am much impressed with Lott's playing throughout the tournament. George is a natural athlete and should show great improvement in his play during the next few years.

Doeg has a beautiful service that reminds one of Maurice E. McLoughlin in his prime and he follows it in with a very strong volleying game, but from the baseline he is pitifully weak. Both his forehand and backhand are below championship play.

However, Johnny in a private talk with me after the match outlined his plans for the Winter and if he goes through with them, as he has planned, I am inclined to believe that the popular Californian will be a serious factor in tournament play all season.

SHIELDS A COMER

Another youngster who I believe will be a serious factor in Davis Cup play during the next few years is Frank Shields. His victory over Jacques Brugnon in straight sets at 7-5, 6-1, 6-0, borders on greatness, and if I was a member of the Davis Cup selection committee I would keep an eye on this youngster. Shields has every stroke in the game and in addition has more than a stout fighting heart.

In justice to Brugnon, I must say he seemed listless during the match, but then, even if he had been on the top of his game I doubt if he would have made much headway against the way the New York boy was playing today.

Shields meets the winner of Henri Cochet and Gregory Mangin match, which was not finished today on account of rain.

Mangin, a youngster just finding his spurs in tournament play, gave the five thousand spectators a real thrill when he stepped on the centre court against the great Cochet and proceeded to win the first set at 6-4. It is doubtful if Mangin ever played better tennis in his life than he played in the first set of his match against Cochet.

The little Frenchman probably underestimated the ability of Mangin at the start of the match, for he went about the court in a rather listless attitude. However, it did not take him long to find out that he was in a real battle.

Toward the last of the first set Cochet was bringing off his strokes with more regularity than at the start of the match, but even then he could not stop the perfect playing of the New Jersey youth.

Mangin, in my estimation will bear watching during the next few years. All he needs is more experience in tournament play.

Cochet was leading one game in the second set when play was called on account of rain, and this match, along with the other unfinished matches, will be played tomorrow from where they ended.

TO BE REPLAYED

Francis T. Hunter, No. 2 on the national ranking list and member of the Davis Cup team, was leading Jack Crawford two sets to one when play was called off. The score was 7-5, 3-6, 6-3 for Hunter, and this match, like the others, will be played tomorrow from where it ended.

Crawford was playing very well against the hard-hitting New Rochelle man and there were times when he had more than an even chance to annex the first set. Hunter was driving just as well today against Crawford as he was when he startled the tennis world the day before by defeating Jean Borotra in a hard five-set match.

If Crawford had Hunter's fighting qualities along with his smooth working ground strokes there would be little or no question about his reaching the top of the lawn tennis ladder. He has every available stroke necessary for the qualification of a national titleholder, but he must develop the winning punch at the critical moment.

Hunter should win his match tomorrow against Crawford, and then he will meet Lott in the semi-final round on Saturday. This means that the final round of the tournament will be carried over until next Monday.

In spite of the fact that Cochet lost the first set to Mangin, I look to see him enter the semi-final round against Shields on Saturday.

If my predictions come through, it means we will find three Americans and one Frenchman entering the semi-final round on Saturday.

EXHIBITION MATCH

In addition to the other matches tomorrow, Helen Wills is slated to oppose a male opponent in an exhibition match. Judging from what I have seen of Helen in her practice sessions during the week, she is playing very well indeed and should give any of the ranking players a hard match.

SUMMARIES

George M. Lott, Jr., defeated John Doeg, 6-2, 6-2, 7-5.

Frank Shields defeated Jacques Brugnon, 7-5, 6-2, 6-0.

Frank Hunter led Jack Crawford, 7-5, 3-6, 6-3.

Gregory Mangin led Henri Cochet, 6-4, 0-1.

VETERANS' SINGLES

Henry Bassord defeated S. Jarvis Adams, 6-3, 6-4.

Phillip B. Hawk defeated Paul Martin, 6-2, 4-6, 7-5.

A. J. Cawse defeated Walter Hayes, 6-2, 6-2.

Fred C. Baggs defeated King Smith, 9-7, 6-0.

Presentation of Soccer Trophy to Be Made by Gene

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Gene Tunney, who was made a captain in Marine Corps Reserve recently, will present to the Royal Marines of Great Britain a beautiful athletic trophy on behalf of the American Marines, in London December 10. The trophy, which will be competed for by the soccer football teams of the Royal Marines, is being given to return the courtesy of the gift of Private Pagett, the English bulldog mascot, given the American Marines. It will be accompanied to England by one of the three retired medal-of-honor men who served in the World War.

The trophy is twenty-three inches high, its base being an unusually well marked piece of green Vermont marble. The centre portion is a huge silver bowl supported on a silver column which extends into a bronze cap over the marble base. On one side of the bowl is the coat-of-arms of the Royal Marines and on the other side is the coat-of-arms of the American Marines.

Practice Soccer

Saanich Thistles soccer eleven will play a practice match against James Island at Central Park at 3 o'clock tomorrow.

MANUSH CLIMBS IN HOT BATTING RACE

Browns' Centre Fielder Hits .1000 and Displaces Gehrig From Second Place

Smashing out four hits in four times at bat, including a double and a home run, Heine Manush not only enabled the Browns to defeat the White Sox yesterday, but also climbed into second place in the hot race of the American League batting leadership. The St. Louis star boosted his mark to .371, displacing the idle Gehrig, of the Yanks, by one point and coming to rest only three points behind Goose Goslin, of Washington, who also was at rest yesterday.

ROGERS HORNSBY

The Pirates were not scheduled yesterday and Hornsby seized this opportunity to gain four points on Paul Waner, leader. The Rajah picked up five out of nine as the Braves dropped two more to the Giants, boosting his average to .379.

Von Elm Climbing in Weekly Golf Averages

George Von Elm's marvelous 272 to win the Gold Mashie tournament has given him a big impetus in the race for medal honors for the season. He has jumped to a virtual tie for second place with Macdonald Smith, passing Farrell, Diegel and Sarazen, and is right at the heels of Bobby Jones. Von Elm has played almost five times as many tournament rounds as Bobby.

Diegel also bettered his average as a result of his great scoring in the Metropolitan District qualifying rounds for the P.G.A. championship. He stepped ahead of Sarazen by doing the two rounds in 137.

Bobby Jones, Smith, Von Elm, Farrell, Diegel and Sarazen now are in a merry race for the lead. Close behind them come Al Espinosa and a crew of others.

Creation of Boxing Commission in City Sponsored by Board

Police Commissioners Feel Boxers and Public Will Be Protected—Legal Opinion of Power to Appoint Tribunal to Be Secured

Victoria will have a boxing commission in the near future, if the City Police Commission is advised by the city solicitor that the mayor has power to appoint such a body.

The question of the formation of a boxing commission in the city was brought before the City Police Commission at its meeting yesterday by Police Commissioner Walter E. Staneland. He said he had attended quite a number of boxing tournaments here and as far as the bouts were concerned, he believed they were very well conducted.

"If these boxing contests are going to be held weekly, I think there should be some supervision of the tournaments," he declared.

Commissioner Staneland told his colleagues that he had made inquiries from the Vancouver chief of police as to how the boxing commission on the Mainland was formed. He had been advised that the commission there consisted of five members, and was appointed by Mayor Louis D. Taylor.

BETTER FOR GAME

"There are some conflicting interests here, and it might be better for the boxing game to have a properly constituted commission to see that the boxers and the public are protected," Mr. Staneland believed.

Chief of Police John Fry stated that if a boxing commission was formed the police chief would be relieved of great responsibility.

Commissioner Staneland sponsored a resolution that a boxing commission be formed in Victoria to consist of at least the mayor, a member of the commission, and three other members to be appointed by the mayor.

GOOD THING FOR SPORT

In seconding the motion, Commissioner William White said he considered the creation of a boxing commission would be a good thing for the sport here.

Mayor J. Carl Pendray said he was heartily in favor of the establishment of such a commission, but asked, "Have we the authority to form one?" He suggested the police board record its approval of the proposal, providing it was able to create such a body. He thought an opinion should be secured from the city solicitor before Mr. Staneland's resolution was adopted.

The mayor's view of first obtaining a legal opinion on the matter was concurred in by his fellow commissioners, and the resolution was laid on the table. A report will be secured from City Solicitor H. S. Pringle by the police commission.

NATIONAL LEAGUE RACE HOT AFFAIR

Cubs Hammer Cardinals, Present Leaders, 6-1—Giants Continue Winning Streak and Climb

The already warm National League race began to boil in earnest yesterday, when the Cubs hammered the Cards to defeat by 6 to 1 before 45,000 fans at Chicago, while the Giants were winning their third straight double-header from the hapless tribe of Rogers Hornsby at Boston, this time by 12 to 2 and 7 to 6. This combination of events left the Cards with a lead of only one and one-half games over the rushing Giants, who were half a game ahead of the Cubs. Their standing is:

NATIONAL LEAGUE

	Won	Lost	Pct.	To Play
St. Louis	83	55	.601	16
New York	81	56	.591	17
Chicago	82	58	.586	14

Both the Yanks and the Athletics were idle yesterday, so far as the championship schedule was concerned, and their standing remained:

	Won	Lost	Pct.	To Play
New York	91	48	.655	15
Philadelphia	90	50	.643	13x

(x) One game with Boston permanently removed from the schedule.

UPLANDS TEAM TO PLAY POINT GREY

Uplands will play Point Grey Golf Club in an interclub match on Sunday over their home course. Fourball matches will be played in the forenoon and singles in the afternoon. The team selected by the committee is as follows: R. Morrison, H. Brynjolfson, P. Edmonds, A. C. Falk, W. Newcombe, R. L. Challoner, C. Morrison (captain), G. Pretty, A. D. Radford, D. A. Macdonald, R. Foulis, L. Glazan, W. Pomeroy, J. A. Oddy, F. C. Dillabough, H. E. Brown, J. R. Hibberson, A. R. Henshall, C. N. Westwood, G. S. Carr, J. H. McConnell, H. B. Combe, D. Randall, Robert Dunn, Jr., Captain W. E. Tapley, D. Hurdle, John Cameron, J. Davidson, D. W. Campbell and A. Sheret.

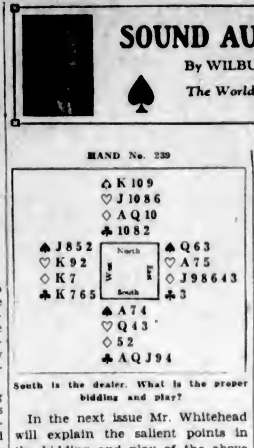

Any of the above team who find that they are unable to play should notify the secretary on Saturday afternoon.

Final Bid "2 N T..." Played by West

Salient Points of the Bidding

West holds the high card values and distribution that call for an original No Trump bid rather than an introductory Minor suit bid. East takes out his partner's No Trump bid with two Diamonds for distributional reasons, that is, because of his singleton Club. His take-out warns his partner of the situation and thus affords him a second opportunity to bid. West, with the three suits other than Diamonds doubly stopped, naturally bids two No Trumps. East, having warned his partner of the No Trump menace, passes on the second round.

Salient Points of the Play

Trick 1.—North opens his only long suit, which South reads from the Rule of Eleven as being of but four cards.

Trick 2.—North holding four Clubs, Declarer must hold five, and the return of the suit would result in the establishment of a long Club in Declarer's hand. South therefore switches to his own best suit, leading from the top of his sequence up to Dummy's low cards. West plays the King rather than false-card the Ace in the hope of discouraging a continuance of the suit. North plays the encouraging 8.

Trick 4.—South leads low in response to his partner's signal and North plays his Queen on West's Ace to unblock.

WOMAN SHOOTS HER OPPRESSOR

MOTHER OF NINE CHILDREN BLACKMAILED BY FATHER OF LATEST TWO

She Kills Him and, Accompanied by Her Eldest Son, Goes to Police Station

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—A shabbily-dressed woman who, at thirty, is the mother and sole support of nine children and who expects another baby in two months, walked into a police station and quietly laid a pistol on the sergeant's desk.

"I just killed a man," she told him, "I shot him at his home while he slept. Lock me up."

The woman was Mrs. Ada Johnson, a widow, who appeared old beyond her thirty years, and her victim was Dominic Finn, thirty-two, married, and a former constable. Mrs. Johnson, whose oldest child is fifteen, told the police that she sold liquor to support her family and that Finn found it out and extorted money from her in return for his silence. When she had no more money, she says, he forced her to submit to his attentions on a threat that he would have her arrested.

NO HELP ARRIVES

"My twin boys, eight months old, are his," she told the police, "and the baby to be born in two months is his. A baby was born to his wife last Monday. Yesterday I asked him for money for my baby. He told me he would bring some, but never came, so I went to his home, climbed in a window and shot him while he slept."

Her oldest son accompanied her to the police. The eight other children were found at home, asleep, and were not informed of the shooting. Mrs. Johnson was held without bail on a charge of murder.

TRUSTEES AGREE WITH DELEGATION

Keating Parents Influence Saanich School Board Against Transportation of School Children

A deputation of eighteen men and women waited on the Saanich School Board on Wednesday evening to protest the idea of transferring Keating children to the Saanichton schools. They strongly objected to a change being made, and suggested that an additional room be constructed at the Keating school to avoid overcrowding.

It was pointed out by J. J. Young that the children would have to travel a considerable distance in the Winter to catch their bus, and would suffer in health. In concluding, he urged that the only remedy was the new room.

Chairman Hobbs told the delegation that no funds were set aside in their estimates for construction this year and they would have to meet the situation the best way possible. He said that teachers were not expected to instruct properly, classes of forty or more pupils.

The work of Miss McKenzie and Mrs. Parberry, teachers at the school, was highly praised by the representatives present, who objected to the removal of the children from one school to another. The board assured the delegation that no changes would be made unless they were unavoidable.

Trustee Jeune reminded them that the Saanich schools were costing approximately $130,000 yearly, which was more than the general expenses of the municipality.

Trustee Tomes stated the board had now definitely decided that the inner wards would be in favor of school extension in the rural districts, and was confident that if the board were to submit a money by-law, it would be approved.

The deputation, especially the ladies, showed disapproval and asserted they would rather keep their children at home than allow them to attend another school.

The board asked the delegation to leave the room while they discussed the matter and came to a definite decision. Before they left they thanked the board, who in turn thanked them for their attendance.

It was moved by Trustee Jeune and seconded by Trustee Tomes that the transfer of the children from the Keating school be opposed. The motion passed unanimously. On hearing the decision the delegation loudly applauded.

A city man asked an octogenarian peasant what to do to live to be eighty.

"Don't drink, don't smoke, and keep out in fresh air," was the reply.

"But my father observed all those rules, and he died at sixty."

"Yes, but he didn't observe 'em long enough!"

Where Miner-Harvesters Were 'Herded'

EMPHATIC denials have been made by Canadian immigration and railway authorities at Ottawa, Winnipeg and Montreal to charges by members of the British Parliamentary Association that a party of 328 disgruntled British miner-harvesters were "herded" into a "cage" at Winnipeg before being put on a train for Montreal, from which they will be sent back to England on White Star and Cunard liners. Deputy Minister of Immigration Egan stated that the men were properly treated and everything done for them it was possible to do. "We fed them over the week-end," he said, "but we could not go on indefinitely feeding men who refused the jobs offered them." Above is shown the interior of one of the men's dormitories of the Canadian National Railways immigration shed at Winnipeg, where the harvesters were quartered before entraining for Montreal.

COUNTRY TO DANCE TO ONE ORCHESTRA

Hook-Up From Pacific to Atlantic Coast Will Carry Broadcast of Lucky Strike Hour

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—When the large dance orchestra begins its music during the Lucky Strike Hour at 10 o'clock, New York time, next Saturday night, over the coast-to-coast facilities of the NBC system, possibly 30,000,000 people, all over the country will dance or listen to the same rhythm simultaneously, but not at the same time according to the nation's clocks.

In New York and along the Atlantic seaboard, the concert will be heard from 10 to 11 o'clock, Eastern daylight saving time. In the Middle West the dances will be held from 9 to 10, and in the Denver district from 8 to 9, while on the Pacific Coast the same music will be heard from 7 to 8 o'clock.

The opening of this new and novel programme over the nation-wide facilities of the National Broadcasting Company's system will mark the first regular coast-to-coast radio hour ever offered to the public. Its music will be picked up by hundreds of thousands of receiving sets in every hamlet and city in the United States. Dancers in Park Avenue apartments and on isolated ranches will step the light fantastic to the Lucky Strike Orchestra's strains. Debutantes, farmers and cowboys will move to the same rhythm and hum the same airs as the big orchestra plays.

Thirty-five selected musicians will comprise the new musical organization. It is made up of the highest type of musicians and this orchestra alone will cost $1,900 for each hour it is on the air. This is exclusive of station charges for the broadcasting of their music. Each member of the orchestra is a soloist of prominence, some are instructors in the leading musical conservatories, and a number direct smaller popular dance orchestras when not rehearsing or playing with the Lucky Strike hour. Each commands a high individual compensation which brings the total for the Lucky Strike Orchestra to a record figure in musical circles. Heretofore, commercial broadcasts from New York studios have not been available to radio audiences on the Pacific Coast. Arrangements have been completed for a regular weekly hook-up of thirty-eight stations every Saturday night. This will bring the Lucky Strike hour to the ears of practically everyone in the United States, and it is extremely likely that this music will be picked up abroad.

In announcing the new hour, it was said that the new Lucky Strike programme will be the result of a national survey of the public's taste in radio. "We learned conclusively that there is a universal desire for a high-class hour featuring dance music exclusively. We therefore secured the largest and finest dance orchestra that could be assembled without regard to expense, and it has been actively rehearsing for several weeks past. We are confident that the public will approve the character as well as the quality of the Lucky Strike hour and feel sure that it will soon become one of the most popular Saturday evening entertainments on the air."

The following stations associated with the NBC system will broadcast the Lucky Strike hour regularly: KOA, Denver; KGO, Oakland; KFI, Los Angeles; KGW, Portland, Ore. and KOMO, Seattle.

Flo Ziegfeld Fined

ROUSE'S POINT, N.Y., Sept. 13.—Flo Ziegfeld, New York theatrical producer, and Dr. J. Wagner, also of New York, were fined $614 when customs collectors here found 106 bottles of liquor and forty-two bottles of ale aboard the private car in which they crossed the Canadian border last night. They were returning from Lake Edward, Que.

United Farmers To Aid Miners to Get Winter Jobs

REGINA, Sept. 13.—Following a conference called here yesterday by the Provincial Government, the various agencies in Saskatchewan interested in immigration and colonization and agriculture, took steps by which they hope to secure Winter work for all British miners who remain in the province after harvest. Chief among the efforts to be made will be the work of the field service men of the Federal Department of Colonization, who will endeavor to secure places on the farms for the men, while the officials of the United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section, will do all in their power to assist.

MEMORY TRAINING

If one wishes to have a good memory, he must be sure that the incidents are strongly impressed upon the brain in a clear manner. Memory is not the recording of facts, but is the ability to recall or recollect these impressions from the brain at some future time. Not only must these impressions be within our brain, but we must develop a mental force or strength to search these records and uncover the one which we need.

First, we must form a clear cut record in our brain, and secondly, we must be able to search it out from among the numerous other records at just the time that we are in need of the information. One can improve the depth of the impressions in the brain by cultivating a keen interest in everything that happens. One should practice observing clearly and distinctly until it becomes an unconscious habit. Concentrate upon those things which you wish to remember, and it is well to associate these with many other ideas and things so that in searching for a thought, we may discover it through several different paths.

The brain associates one idea with another, and most systems of memory training make use of this fact by teaching a visualizing process. As you look at a thing, compare it with another. Look at its points of difference. Consider its possibilities of difference and juggle it about in your brain until you realize its details clearly. If you do this, you will find that in this particular instance, you will have a good memory and be able to recall the incident years after it has occurred.

You can use special exercises for developing your memory, but if you make an effort to thoroughly understand every detail of the thing you are trying to memorize, you will find that your memory will improve by this practice alone. A very good plan is to try to recall the instances of the day just before you are retiring. In this way you will be able to remember and describe the persons and things with which you have come in contact. You will also find that these exercises develop mental faculties which you probably did not know existed in yourself. You will take a new interest in life as you discover that comparatively simple things may release wonderful thoughts which have been stored away in forgotten corners of your brain.

A few people are born with the happy faculty of memorizing readily, but the vast majority of people must pay special attention to developing this part of their mental faculties.

A brain should certainly be kept as neatly and orderly as a business file. The impressions and records stored in the cells of the brain should be so clear and distinct that the mind will have no difficulty in locating them and their related ideas.

If one develops an enjoyment and interest in the things which he tries to memorize, he will find that the impressions remain much stronger. One trouble with most people is that they hate to memorize certain things and they actually develop a faculty in their minds for forgetting the things which they do not wish to remember. If you have an appointment which you do not wish to keep, you will, in all probability, forget about it.

CHAPTER XV

Murray Mallerton had left the station and was in the act of climbing the stile leading to the village when he heard Bernard call.

Poor chap! of course he was expecting to hear news—and Mallerton had none to give. He had returned most reluctantly, dreading to take up again the daily round and common task into which he could no longer throw his whole heart. The uncertainty, together with a most dreadful certainty of tragic happening, drove the strong-minded man nearly to despair.

Again, Bernard's shrill tones of excitement broke in on gloomy foreboding. The boy was racing down the hill and reached him breathless.

"Steady, old chap," said Mallerton. "Steady. I'm afraid there's no hurry for my news, since—"

Bernard clutched his arm.

"He's gone down to catch the 12:40," he stuttered. "We could do it with a sprint—he went round by Dove Lane—by luck, I took this short cut. We must."

Mallerton did not ask questions. He knew Bernard was a shrewd youngster and not likely to be off on a wild goose chase, especially a chase in which money was necessary.

Without a word he turned and the two pounded off at a right royal sprint along the sloshy lane or rather footpath which led to the station.

The train was in—but a whistle was sounding.

Bernard took the rotten old fence surrounding the station-master's private domain at a rush, and, heedless of Mr. Station Master's screams, led the way to the platform. The train was steaming out of the station as the two hurried forward and sprang into the last compartment. The guard was on his way to his van, but, recognizing Mallerton, merely banged the door.

Bernard dropped on to the wooden seat.

"Done it!" he ejaculated.

Mallerton looked at him critically.

"Well?" he enquired. Then he waited.

Bernard was 'collecting' his scattered senses.

From the moment when he had nearly thrown his father into a state of collapse by a precipitous bouncing out from behind the study curtain till now, he had only one dominant idea—to track that confounded American whom he would have liked to fry over a slow fire.

Poor Mr. Garnell had seen his eldest hope bound over the gate and had given way to a fit of profound depression.

Some sinister and bewildering force had broken—shattered—the tenor of his torpid life and he was wondering what further earthquake threatened to destroy or attempt to destroy his spirit of—resignation.

"So," said Mallerton hoarsely, "if you hadn't met me you were taking a lone trail after those blackguards?"

"What do you think!" retorted Bernard laconically. "Maisie is in danger."

Mallerton held out his hand and the boy gripped it. They understood each other.

"We've got a difficult job before us," said Mallerton. "It is when we get to London that we shall have our work cut out. We must know what Glashier's destination is even if we are unable to follow him today. Evidently Fo Chung is—is at the other end."

"It was like his unbounded impudence to come and bluff the dad in that way," said Bernard after a pause, "what's this ring Maisie got hold of? And who is Mrs. Banberry?"

"We are going to find all that out—presently," was Mallerton's quiet reply.

As the doctor supposed, the crucial moment arrived when the train rattled into the great London terminus. They had lunched and supped in their own compartment with the help of provision baskets and porters. Bernard approved this part of the journey immensely.

"It must be jolly to have plenty of money," said the boy pensively as he watched his companion put back several one pound notes into his pocketbook.

Mallerton smiled. "Not exactly as plentiful as blackberries, Bern," he replied, "but it's one of those particular occasions when money is no object—when you have it. You went one farther, eh. What did you intend doing as regards such trifles as tickets?"

Benard grinned. "Under the seat," he replied. "Of course dad would faint if he knew, but Roger and I have done it before. I should have done it again—and you bet I wouldn't have been sketched."

The confession was so frank, the present excuse so powerful that the doctor reserved his lecture. But he couldn't help thinking that the Vicar might possibly have found more important work than certain superfluous parochial duties—a good deal nearer at home.

The hand-to-mouth existence in which Bernard and his brethren had been brought up had resulted at least in quite unduly sharpening their wits, and but for the boy's clever bit of tracking at the terminus, Glashier would certainly have got off unobserved. It was all in the favor of his pursuers that he did not know himself pursued! His walk was leisurely. He looked at his watch and evidently found he had plenty of time. Calling a taxi he got in, giving the name of his destination.

Euston Station.

Into a second taxi bundled Murray and Bernard. Bernard was all agog. Never before had he travelled in a taxi cab. His sigh of regret was not echoed by Murray when they reached the station. For a moment or so he feared he had lost the quarry. Glashier's empty cab was returning already. But no—Glashier had not got a return ticket, but Murray, though he 'spotted' the tall, brown-ulstered figure at the booking office, was unable to reach it in time. A couple of porters wheeling the family baggage in the further charge of pater-families and a cargo of youthful progeny hurled themselves remorselessly on his path. When the way was clear, Murray hurried forward. Glashier had gone, but the place in front of the booking office was filled by Bernard who was concluding a hasty argument with the clerk. Bernard was apologizing meekly.

"Sorry," he said, "I thought I had the money. It's my father's fault. Memory gone. I'll scoot and get the cash."

He slipped away heedless of the man's indignant remonstrance about wasting a public servant's time. At sight of Mallerton the boy grinned.

"Come along," he said. "Shall we go into the street? Glashier's leaving in ten minutes. We've time to take tickets when you know."

"You heard where he booked for?" asked Murray.

"Yes. Croffield in Yorkshire—change at Birmingham. What do you think. Shall we try our luck?"

Mallerton shook his head.

"No. We'll go by the next train and take tickets to the station before Croffield. We'll hire a taxi and go carefully. When men act—and talk—like Glashier and Co., we are bound not to take risks. I wouldn't mind the American—but I am thinking of Fo Chung."

"So am I," said Bernard. "Snakes! How I wish I'd known what he was after. Can't understand Maisie, can you? D'you think they've hypnotized her—or what does it mean. She lay low, didn't she?"

"Yes," replied Mallerton, "but I feel quite sure she was doing what she thought right. I fancy it must have been—for the sake of—getting money to help her people. It is the only reason I can see."

"I'll bet my bottom dollar about one thing," said Bernard heartily, "it's no sort of love notion with Glashier. She jolly well hated him and she was afraid of Fo Chung. What a beastly time she must be having, poor old girl."

"I am afraid," said Mallerton, "a very beastly time indeed. Pray heaven she has come nearly to the end of it. By tomorrow she ought to be safe home."

"It's a pity Detective Hale stayed behind at Skivington," said Bernard, "but after all—we're on the straight clue now. I suppose—er—there won't be time to have another go of supper before our train starts?"

But Mallerton, having some bowels of compassion in spite of his anxiety, thought it might be a useful idea.

AMAZING TRUE STORY

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 13.—Gordon Scandrett, aged twenty-one, lies in hospital here recovering from what the doctors describe as one of the most amazing experiences in Canadian medical annals.

Scandrett was working in the C.N.R. yards here yesterday afternoon trying to move a car along a siding with a pinch bar when the bar suddenly slipped and fell inside the rail. The sharp end sticking upwards caught him in the abdomen, and as the car gained momentum the steel penetrated right through his body and emerged close to the base of the spine and then was driven three inches into a wooden beam of the car.

Frantic fellow workers rushed to his aid while the impaled youth calmly directed operations. When the rescuers finally lifted him clear he told them: "Come on now, boys, pull it out."

Doctors who examined the young man said that the bar had passed within a hair's breadth of several vital points, injury to which would have meant certain death. His chances of recovery are said to be excellent.

I'M LUCKY

I'm lucky when I find a task
To do with all my might,
And nothing better can I ask
From life, by day or night,
Than that my heart and mind be set
On what I do, not what I get.

I'm lucky when I find a friend
Who sticks through thick and thin,
Whose friendship will not break or bend
Whether I lose or win,
Whose loyalty knows no reverse,
But holds, for better or for worse.

I'm lucky when I learn that luck
Is seeking not my own,
That all expedients come unstuck
When Self is sought alone,
And that no gain can e'er transpire
From evil deed and low desire.

—A. B. C., in Tit-Bits.

KITH AND KIN

With a rather embarrassed air the young couple came in from the moonlit garden. Of the two, the man was perhaps the more nervous.

"Well, what have you two children been jawing about in the garden all this time?" inquired the girl's parent breezily.

"Oh," returned his daughter, with an air of great unconcern, "we've been discussing kith and kin."

"Yeth, they were," chimed in her small brother, who had overheard a certain part of the conversation. He asked if he could kith thith, and she said 'You kin!'"

MARINE and TRANSPORTATION

1,200 TICKET AGENTS COMING

URGENT APPEAL ISSUED FOR CARS ON MONDAY AFTERNOON AT 1:30 O'CLOCK

Men Will Arrive Here From Seattle at 12:30—To Be Given Lunch at Ogden Point

Now attending their tenth annual convention at Seattle, 1,200 members of the American Association of Railway Ticket Agents will arrive in the city at 12:30 o'clock on Monday afternoon aboard the President Pierce, as guests of the American Mail Line, whose vessels ply between here and the Orient.

This is the first time that the railway men have convened in the Pacific Northwest, and as they are in a position to send many visitors this way, daily selling tickets to all parts of the world, it is desired to create a favorable impression when they arrive in the city.

With this in view the committee of steamship and railroad men recently appointed to extend the "glad hand," yesterday issued an urgent appeal for automobiles to take the agents on sightseeing trips.

Those who are able to provide transportation are asked to form line, facing east, at the mouth of the road leading down to Ogden Point piers at 1:30 o'clock on Monday afternoon.

The entertainment committee consists of Mr. A. P. Chapman, Jr., general agent, Milwaukee Railway; Mr. C. F. Earle, agent, Canadian National Railways; Mr. L. D. Chetham, agent, Canadian Pacific Railways; Mr. A. H. Hebb, general agent, Great Northern Railway; Mr. Walter Miles, agent, Union Steamship Ltd., and Mr. W. M. Allan, general agent, Pacific Steamship Company.

Arriving here at 12:30 o'clock on Monday, the agents will be given lunch in one of the huge buildings at Ogden Point piers, after which they will be taken on a tour of the city and environs.

At 5:30 o'clock those returning to Seattle will sail in the President Pierce, while those intending to travel through British Columbia will embark at the C.P.R. Belleville Street docks. The Princess Kathleen will sail at 5:30 o'clock, making a special trip to Vancouver for the agents. The regular afternoon run will be taken over by the Princess Charlotte.

Baggage of those intending to travel on the Kathleen will be picked up at Ogden Point and taken to the C.P.R. depot. The Canadian National Railways and the Canadian Pacific Railway both have arranged special trains leaving from Vancouver for the convenience of the agents.

On Sunday evening, next week, after the agents have been entertained at Tacoma, they will be taken for a cruise of Puget Sound by the Alaska Steamship Company on the Ss. Aleutian, leaving at 6 o'clock. They will leave for Victoria on Monday morning.

"For a while he was clear out of his mind about that girl." "And now? "Oh, now the girl is clear out of his mind!"

PALATIAL YACHT IS AT YARROWS

Vencedor, Princess Adelaide, Victory V and Car Ferry Canora All Having Work Done

At Yarrows Limited Captain J. W. Hobbs' palatial yacht Vencedor is having oil burners installed, in addition to being cleaned and painted.

A former British Admiralty training vessel, the Vencedor came out here as the Exmouth No. 2. Before leaving the plant she will have been completely gone over, in addition to having a propeller of new design fitted.

The Princess Adelaide is alongside the outfitting wharf undergoing deck and engine repairs and will be released about the end of the week.

Stone Brothers' Victory V. from Port Alberni, is undergoing engine work and will soon be fitted with a new tailshaft. The small passenger and freight vessel is equipped with a Vickers-Petter semi-Diesel engine.

A relic of the log carrier Bingamon, part of the steel derrick removed from the hulk lies on the outfitting wharf at Yarrows. The Bingamon lies partly submerged and marked with four lights near the oil tanks in Esquimalt harbor.

The most interesting craft at Yarrows is the Canadian National Railways car ferry Canora, in service between Port Mann and Patricia Bay.

The Canora, a black painted stubby craft with twin stacks, one on each side, can carry twenty-four railway cars at a time. They are rolled in through the stern on four tracks, after which a huge door rolls down, closing up the opening, in exactly the same manner as a roll-top desk works.

With propellers and rudders fore and aft, it is possible to use either end of the Canora for the bow, both rudders locking by means of large metal pins.

It is also possible to use one propeller to push the ferry and the other to pull her. The craft is being fitted with oil burners and a new stern propeller and will be dry-docked next week.

"What kind of a party was it?" "Well, at about 1:30 the automatic fire sprinkler started to work."

PILCHARD SEASON CALLS FOR TANKAGE

Vessels Are Getting Large Quantities of Oil on West Coast for Shipment

The pilchard season on Vancouver Island appears to be at its peak, with a heavy demand for tankage accommodation to take care of the products of the reduction plants.

The B.C. Coast Steamship Service has both the Nootka and Princess Ena working on the West Coast in this trade, but it will be necessary to withdraw the Ena on her next return to port, as the company has to move freight to Alaska and the Yukon at once, before Winter sets in at points in the Far North.

The Nootka will continue in the service as long as traffic is offering, the season being later this year will entail a longer operation on the West Coast than is customarily the case.

The fishing is found to be farther afield than in earlier years, and apparently the schools do not have the same opportunity to reach the inlets as was the case in the first season of the pilchard fishery.

A large quantity of oil has been handled at Port Alberni into tank cars for shipment East, the quantities being larger than on any former occasion.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tides rise or fall continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of lower low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock at any tide, add 18 feet to the height of high water, as above given.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Songhees drydock add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

GULF ISLAND SERVICE

The "Island Princess" leaves Victoria at 7:15 a.m. on Mondays and 8 a.m. on Wednesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays for Gulf Island points.

DOCK WORKERS CAUSE TIE-UP

CRITICAL SITUATION IN AUSTRALIA OVER REFUSAL OF LABORERS TO WORK

Shipping Companies Inform Premier That Essential Services Will Be Maintained

MELBOURNE, Australia, Sept. 13.—A critical situation has come of the refusal of the dockworkers to accept an arbitration award. The crews of some interstate liners have been paid off, and the passengers have had their fares refunded. The shipping companies have informed Premier Stanley Bruce that steps will be taken to maintain essential service, which is believed to mean free labor will be employed.

Special trains have been put on between the Eastern states and West Australia in an attempt to alleviate the tie-up of produce and passenger raffic. Butter supplies in the Commonwealth are increasing rapidly and a larger surplus of export butter threatens serious derangement of the market.

Premier Bruce told Parliament yesterday that drastic steps will be taken to settle any disorders arising from the strike. Thirty-one ships were reported lying idle at Adelaide.

GRAIN MOVEMENT WILL BE IMMENSE

Canadian National Railways Has 40,000 Grain Cars Ready for 550,000,000 Bushels

With more than 40,000 grain cars in service on Western lines of the system this Fall, the Canadian National Railways are in splendid position for the handling of grain movement from the West to the Head of the Lakes and to the Pacific Coast, according to operating department officials of the road at Montreal.

While grain has begun to move from the local shipping points where threshing is under way, this movement is yet far from its peak, which will be when the Province of Saskatchewan commences general shipment in about ten days. By that time daily loading of cars will climb to around the 1,500 mark and this year, with an estimated 550,000,000 bushels of grain to be moved, all resources of the railways will be required to keep this grain moving forward to the elevators at the Head of the Lakes and the Pacific Coast ports.

During the year 108 new elevators were built at country points along the lines of the Canadian National in the three Western provinces, these providing additional storage capacity of 3,586,000 bushels. The elevators were divided among the Prairie Provinces as follows: Manitoba, twenty-one elevators with 1,744,000 bushels; Saskatchewan, eighteen elevators with 546,000 bushels; and Alberta, sixty-nine elevators with 2,276,000 bushels.

SEATTLE, Sept. 13.—As a subsidiary of the Puget Sound Navigation Company, the Sound Ferry Lines, purchased at a receiver's sale in Seattle by the Colonial Realty Company of Tacoma recently, will be operated on a new schedule providing increased service.

Martin Miller, of the traffic department of the Puget Sound Company, has been appointed manager of the company, which has been reincorporated as the Edmonds-Olympic Route. Mr. Miller will make his headquarters at Edmonds.

2 DEATHS

PATERSON—At the family residence, 580 Lotbiniere Avenue, on Thursday morning, James Paterson, aged seventy years. He is mourned by his widow and one son, Gilzean Walker Paterson, of this city, and three brothers, John, in Vanderhoof, B.C., George, in Okotoks, Alberta, and William, in Vancouver, B.C., and two sisters, Mrs. Harper, in Vancouver, and Miss G. Paterson, in Los Angeles. The late Mr. Paterson had been a resident of Victoria for the last forty years and for ten years was purchasing agent for the Government of British Columbia. He was a member of Ancient Landmark Lodge No. 3, A.F. & A.M., of Winnipeg, Man.

The funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon from McCall Brothers' Funeral home to St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, where services will be held at 2.30 o'clock. Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell, D.D., officiating. Interment will be made in Royal Oak Burial Park. Friends are requested to kindly omit flowers.

3 MARRIAGES

MILLS-PARKER—On September 8, at St. Mary's Church, Kerrisdale, Vancouver, by the Rev. John Antle, Dr. Stanley Mills, Rock Bay, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Gordon Mills, Toronto, and Edith Jean, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Parker, Chilliwack.

5 IN MEMORIAM

HARRISON—In loving memory of Lionel Frederick Harrison, who was accidentally killed September 14, 1927.

As I loved him, so I miss him,
In my memory he is near.
Loved, remembered, longed for always,
Bringing many a silent tear.
—Sadly missed by his wife.

THEY ARE OUTSTANDING BUYS BOTH AS TO CONDITION AND VALUE

324—McLAUGHLIN BUICK, MODEL 24-35, four cylinders, mechanically in first-class order, just out of paintshop, re-Duco'ed two-tone grey, top, side curtains and upholstery in splendid condition, semi-balloon tires and good for 10,000 miles, four-wheel brakes, one of the best buys in the city at $585

335—CHEVROLET SUPERIOR COACH, 1924, a carefully driven, privately owned automobile with original finish in very good condition. Driven only 13,500 miles this car was completely overhauled by the previous owner and we guarantee it to be in A-1 mechanical order; tires are in very fair condition, upholstery like new $410

329 — WHIPPET FOUR-CYLINDER SEDAN, 1927. Driven only 3,600 miles. This splendid little sedan cannot be told from a new car; a reliable, economical automobile, driven only on paved roads. A big reduction from new car list $850

325 — MAXWELL TOURING, 1925 model. This last series, Good Maxwell, just out of the paintshop, completely overhauled in our repair department. All parts interchange with the four-cylinder Chrysler. A sturdy smooth-running car, mechanically perfect, for $550

281—NASH SEDAN, 1926 MODEL. A small six-cylinder sedan, with original paint like new. This is a nice car for a lady to drive, upholstery in very good order, mechanically correct, exterior finish in splendid condition. Compare the price of this automobile .... SOLD

321—CHRYSLER "50" SEDAN, completely overhauled. This car is in exceptionally fine condition; low mileage, with an appearance of a new car. Makes it a sedan you would be proud to own, at $885

LOOKING FOR A GOOD BUY LEADS YOU TO THESE SPECIAL VALUES

ESSEX SUPER-SIX SEDAN, 1926—Just as great a buy as the coupe and sedan sold early this week. It has only run a few thousand miles.

ESSEX SUPER-SIX COACH, 1927—Also a great buy, having gone less than four thousand miles.

HUDSON SUPER-SIX SPEEDSTER—In extra fine condition, having been particularly well kept, nickeled fenders and engine hood, etc., give it outstanding appearance. At the price it is a gift.

STAR TOURING, 1927—Good looking and in good condition. A late model worth snapping up. It's a buy.

OLDSMOBILE "4" TOURING—One of those powerful strong fours. The price is right, the appearance is fine (just painted). It is just what should suit you.

FORD ROADSTER, 1926—A great buy at its price. You will agree when you check it over.

FORD TUDOR, 1924—This car is in very good condition mechanically and is refinished in New Ford colors. It is one of those good buys.

Whitney Letter

(Supplied by Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Yesterday's market hesitated just enough to give those who have been predicting a reaction the opportunity to point to the fact that reaction was again confined entirely to stocks which have advanced sharply in the previous three days, and consequently can be dismissed from mind. Secretary Mellon contributed a statement on conditions in prospect for business, which can be construed in no other way than bullishly.

Report from Washington officially denied that there was to be any warning by the Federal Reserve Board against speculation; so that rumor is out of the way. Today we have to look forward to a statement from one who is regarded as the leader of the oil industry, at least in this country, which is pronounced by those who are qualified to pass on it as the most constructive statement which the oil industry has enjoyed in two years.

Call money has already declined to 7 per cent, and since it was freely offered in the market yesterday at 6 1-2, we will, perhaps, not have to wait for next week, as was generally expected, to witness the decline below 7. It makes no difference what the loan total may show, the market is headed higher, and will go higher today.

U.S. Steel completed a three-point reaction from its best price in yesterday's market, and then retraced half of it before the close. This should clear the way for the establishment of steel well above the 160 price today. Having crossed 110, Westinghouse Electric is scheduled for a new high record before the end of the week.

Packard has established a new top, and is on its way to the previously predicted $100 a share. Thus far the issue has at no time become spectacular in its movement, but this phase of its advance should come well within the $100 limit. Colombia Gas, in which you were advised to take profits at 125, should be repurchased at this time, and held for an objective of between 150 and 160, to the accompaniment of the previously predicted two for one split.

New York Central is about to be engaged in a renewed advance as leader of the rail group, and should be purchased around 175 in anticipation of a new high record.

Texas Corporation is continuing its advance, and is expected to feature the oil group in today's market, and to be accompanied by Mariand Oil, which has thus far been considerable of a laggard.

Standard Commercial Tobacco has established a new high record for the year, which will be amply justified by today's dividend action, which will be sufficient to bring even further advance beyond the recently recorded new top.

Anaconda, Erie, Missouri-Pacific and American Sugar are still worth buying.

Predictions are being made in usually reliable circles that at the first meeting of the directors of Coca Cola in 1929 another split-up of the stock will be ordered. The basis is expected to be four for one.

Basis for considerable recent buying of Republic Iron and Steel is belief that increased output incident to absorption of Steel and Tube will bring about important economies.

With the best season of the year for department stores yet to come, earnings of Best & Co. should show a good improvement over last year. Trade experts feel that the Fall and Winter buying will be as good as usual.

Cerro de Pasco stood out in the copper group as it gave further reflection of indications that extra dividend would be disbursed this year.

Armour of Delaware preferred was bought by the prominent mid-western group most active in the market which has been responsible for action in Armour "A."

That American Can will soon again assume the important market position it occupied only a short time ago is the view of conservative interests. Affairs of the company are satisfactory, and earnings this year should record a substantial increase over the 1927 results because of the large demand for containers.

There has been a resumption of buying of Chicago Pneumatic Tool by interests who were prominent on the long side of the stock during advances early this year, and who took profits at higher levels. They have been replacing their holdings again, and the effect of this buying has been shown in the strength of the stock.

Terms of Warner Bros. acquisition of Stanley Co. of America provides that for each 100 shares of Stanley the holder will receive 80 shares of new Warner, 4% Conv. Pref. par $55, eight shares of Warner common, and cash of $57 a share for twenty shares of Stanley. Warner calls Class "A" for redemption, December 1.

Postum acquires Calumet Baking Powder Co. for consideration of $32,000,000, based on present market value of Postum stock. Calumet will operate as separate unit and will continue its sales policies and distributing system. Warren Wright, president of Calumet Baking, will continue in that capacity, and will be elected to directorate of Postum.

Youngstown District makers of full finished sheets booked six to eight weeks ahead. Forty-six of fifty-three independent open hearth furnaces operating. Carnegie Steel at 75%. Strip mills at capacity.

Subscriptions to offerings of $550,000,000, 4½% Treasury Certificates of indebtedness aggregated $1,019,699,800 of which $102,821,300 reported subscription for which third Liberty 4¼s were tendered.

Hornblower & Weeks—Strength in the copper metal market current increasing activity in coppers, and Anaconda as the largest producer and the only integrated company in the industry should be the leader. Transue and Williams is so close to its old high that we believe that a new top this week is a likely development.

Louchheim — Resistance to the decline is too well organized to allow anything but a decline of the most orderly kind, but would be cautious about following the bulges too far.

Hollinger Dividend Cut

MONTREAL, Sept. 13.—Following a directors' meeting, the following statement was issued here yesterday by the Hollinger Gold Mine Co.:

"The directors of Hollinger Consolidated Gold Mines, Ltd., at a meeting held on September 11, decided to cut the present dividend in half. The dividend has been at the rate of 26 per cent a year, and will be reduced to 13 per cent. The earnings will be ample to provide for the dividend at this rate."

Announcement is also made that the Hollinger Company is carrying on negotiations with the T. & N.O. Railway for the construction of a line into Kamislotia. If these negotiations are concluded satisfactorily, a concentrator will be erected to treat the ore at the Kamislotia property.

New York Stock Letter

(Supplied by Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Another session was featured by a large turnover with many cross currents in the price movement, although the market had a rather heavy appearance at the close today.

Money renewed at 7 1-2 per cent, but subsequently eased to 7 per cent. The latter development stimulated a fresh wave of buying in the stock list, but, as has been observed lately, the advances seemed to attract a large volume of selling.

It seems as though the disposition is growing in substantial quarters to conduct realizing sales at favorable opportunities, and this selling, we feel, may ere long prove to be burdensome in so far as the general market position is concerned.

Accordingly, we believe the time is opportune to accept some profits on long holdings of securities, especially on the up swings.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

Daily Stock Letter

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Again today the principal trading stocks proved their responsiveness to easier conditions. Considerable irregularity was created in the early dealings by selling for the account of traders desiring to be out of the market pending publication of the weekly brokers' loan statement.

Unsettlement was weighed by a drastic decline in the entertainment shares. Weakness in these stocks was due to an impairment to their technical position resulting from the recent wild speculation based on merger developments and various other projected consolidations. However, pivotal stocks held well in face of heavy selling and developed strong railying tendencies around noon following a drop in call money to 7 per cent from the renewal charge of 7 1-2 per cent.

Sharp rallies from the morning's slump took place in the afternoon, but the selling pressure was renewed in the late trading on reports that the loan statement, due after the close, would show an increase in excess of 150 million dollars.

Aggressive action continues to centre on the motor shares, in which some of the most powerful groups operating in the present market are at work. General Motors was taken in large blocks by Chicago and Detroit people. Texas Company was actively bought by the same interests who brought about General Motors sharp recovery from the morning lows. In addition to this, these people were active in Tidewater Associated.

At an Irish election an interrupter called out: "You're a double-faced politician."

The candidate swiftly retorted: "You're not double-faced, for if you had another you would never have come here with that one."

Frequent Shifts of Speculative Sentiment Characterize Session of New York Stock Market

MAY RESTRICT OIL OUTPUT OF WORLD

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Frequent shifts of speculative sentiment characterized today's stock market, with final quotations irregular. The market sold off sharply in early trading when distinct weakness developed in the amusement group, but the lowering of call money and rumors of early gold imports from Great Britain helped to revive bullish enthusiasm and stimulated the resumption of pool activities in a select assortment of specialties.

Warner Brothers common and "A" stock each broke about 14 points, but rallied slightly from their lows. Fox Film dropped 7 points and recovered 1 1-2, and Stanley and Keith Albee showed net declines of 4 1-2 and 3 1-4 respectively.

Brooklyn Union Gas soared 13 points to a new high record at 162.

Revival of activity and strength in the oil shares was accompanied by unconfirmed rumors of an early announcement of a world curtailment of crude oil programme. Texas Corporation crossed 71 to a new high, and Midcontinent sold above 34 for the first time this year.

New peak prices for the year or longer also were registered by such popular shares as Chrysler, Packard, Graham Paige, Murray Corporation, John S. Manville, Davison Chemical and Standard Commercial Tobacco.

American Linseed broke 6 points, Warren Brothers 5 3-4, Curtiss nearly 4, and the American Tobacco issues, Briggs Manufacturing, Case Threshing, International Telephone, Lambert, and Victor Talking Machine yielded 2 or more points.

Sterling cables established another new low at $4.85 1-32 and then rallied slightly.

Japanese yen broke 13 points to 45.50c.

The bond market reflected the irregularity of the stock market today. Trading was more active, but prices pursued no definite trend.

CHICAGO, Sept. 13. — Wheat: Sentiment a little more friendly to wheat. Whether this was incident to a press release by the Secretary of Agriculture or to other causes would be difficult to determine. There were many rumors after the close, but not sufficiently confirmed to justify repetition in this letter.

Threshing returns in Spring wheat territory have not been generally as large as anticipated and this is especially true of Winter wheat in Montana. North Dakota will have considerable wheat in poor conditions. It is possible that the October report may find justification for some reduction in estimate on Spring wheat. The Canadian crop is moving earlier in volume than last year and grading is said to be satisfactory. Export buying is of a hand-to-mouth variety and foreigners continue well satisfied with their position in view of prospective supplies. The day's export business was largely to Germany and of Canadian varieties, while Broomhall speaks of Germany now selling wheat to France. He also is responsible for the statement that the Pool continues to offer wheat below the ruling market prices. Estimates on Italian crop are likely to be reduced from early figures.

Corn: Shorts were principal buyers today and this buying advanced prices to a level where country offerings of both old and new corn were somewhat increased. The market reacted in consequence. Dry weather continues in Bulgaria, which is said to have lost half her crop from this cause.

Winnipeg Grain

WINNIPEG, Sept. 13.—Wheat: After an opening break of about one cent, the wheat market today firmed up and held stubbornly strong, most of the session at slightly higher levels than yesterday's close. Trade volume was anything but large, and, while mills took a little wheat early, there was no important buying going on, and exporters stated that overnight acceptances were extremely small.

The main feature of the market at present is the light offerings with elevator interests putting out very few hedges, and they report that while marketings in the country are becoming liberal, the farmers are not selling more than a small proportion of their deliveries, but are taking advantage of the favorable weather in an endeavor to get the threshing completed. Seaboard estimated wheat sales in all positions at around 525,000 bushels, including some Manitobas to Germany. The pool are not selling any wheat in this market but Broomhall reports that they are selling abroad under present market prices. In the local cash market offerings are becoming quite liberal and buyers are backing away, with the result that spreads are weakening and today were from one to two cents lower than yesterday except No. 1 Northern which was unchanged.

The local market opened one cent lower, and into the daily bids some buying against which caused a reaction. Then bulls forced prices still higher being encouraged by the strength in Chicago wheat under corn. The weather has been mostly favorable over Western Canada and the forecast is favorable for Friday and threshing is making good progress. The market is a two-sided affair for the time being, but look for prices to eventually work lower, owing to the world's big surplus of wheat over requirements.

Coarse grains: There was a good demand for barley, which appeared to be coming from American interests and was said to be in the nature of lifting hedges. Export business was small, offerings fairly liberal. Oats held firm with offerings very small, but demand is light.

Rye followed wheat but demand rather quiet with no export business in evidence. Oats closed ¼ higher to unchanged. Barley ⅛ higher to unchanged and rye closed ½ higher to unchanged.

Flax: This market firm under a very light trade but very little offered for sale. Closing prices ⅛ higher to unchanged.

TORONTO, Sept. 13.—The large volume of trading on the standard exchange today may be attributed to heavy liquidation in practically every stock on the board. Only one or two issues were the exception and chief among these was Newbec, which, after opening at 33 1-2, was under heavy accumulation during the morning and in the afternoon in heavy demand reached a high of 47 1-2, closing at 47-50 for a net gain of 14 1-2.

Others of the Rouyn issues did not fare so well, however. Amulet after opening at 3.30 went down to 3.15, closing at the bottom for a net loss of 17. Area was off one at 27-27 1-2.

Despite the heavy liquidation in most stocks, Noranda, in losing only 40 points, to close at 52.85-52.90, is considered to be in a very strong position. Malartic met much profit taking at 1.80 and reacted to 1.67 but in heavy trading at this point quickly jumped up again to 1.75, closing 9 points off at 1.71-1.75.

The two other Lindsley issues, Sherritt and Sudbury Basin, were heavily sold, the former losing 15 at 6.50-6.55, while the latter at 6.15-6.20 was off 10.

Comparatively speaking Abana was the far heaviest loser of the day, selling from the opening of 370 to 3.50, where it closed for a net loss of 30.

In the Porcupine group, Dome was slightly firmer at 9.55, and McIntyre was up 50 to 22.00-22.25, while Hollinger was inclined to be erratic, selling from the opening of 8.45-8.80, later reacting to 8.35 and in closing at 8.30-8.40 this issue, lost 35. Vipond at 57-58 was up 1-2. In the Kirkland group, Bidgood lost 3 at 66, while Kirkland Lake and Lake Shore were unchanged at 1.55-1.59 and 22.35-22.50 respectively. Teck Hughes at 8.95-8.99 was off 10 and Wright Hargreaves was off 4 at 2.26-3-28.

Spring wheat. The Canadian crop 19.10 was off 5, while its neighbor Mandy was off 8 at 2.40-2.42.

When Pitt was forming a park about Walmer Castle, at which he resided, he proposed to enclose it with posts and rails. Having had estimates of the expense prepared, he commented upon the cost to a friend, who told him that he did not go the cheapest way to work.

"Why?" asked the Premier: "Because," replied the other, "you need only find posts—the country will find railing!"

FEET SHOULD POINT SOUTH

Suggestion With Regard to Position of Bed Clashes With Mediaeval Tradition

DR. BARTON GIVES REASON FOR ADVICE

Speaking to an audience which taxed the seating capacity of the New Thought Temple on Wednesday evening, Dr. A. F. Barton gave an interesting lecture on "The Wonders of the Human Body." The lecturer in a very skilful manner showed, by means of a very large, beautiful colored chart, the relationship existing between every organ of the body and also referred to the body as a factory wherein all the processes of internal secretions which play so valuable a part in preserving health and youth were indicated. Dr. Barton said in part "The human body is a miracle of mechanism. No work of man can compare with it in accuracy of its process and simplicity of its laws."

At maturity, the human skeleton contains about 165 bones, so delicately adjusted that science has despaired of ever imitating it. The muscles are about 500 in number; the length of the alimentary canal, thirty-two feet; amount of blood in average adult, thirty pounds, or one-fifth the weight of the body; the heart is six inches in length and four inches in diameter.

In speaking of psychic nerve action, Dr. Barton pointed out the advisability of sleeping according to magnetic polarity. This should be done by means of placing the bed so that the feet were pointed to the south and the head to the north, as this enables one to conserve the psychic nerve force during sleep, and also prevented sleeplessness. Dr. Barton cited several cases which had been benefited by this simple procedure.

At the close of the lecture Dr. Barton received an ovation. This series of lectures will be continued each Wednesday throughout the Fall and Winter.

ROSH HASHANAH TO BE OBSERVED

Service at Temple Emanu El on Saturday Morning Will Mark New Year

Jewry in Victoria will usher in its celebration of the New Year, called in Hebrew "Rosh Hashanah," with religious service in Temple Emanu El at 9:30 o'clock on Saturday morning.

In accordance with the prescribed commandment in the Bible, Reform Judaism devotes one day to the observance of this holiday. With the celebration of this solemn festival which carries a signal message to both Jew and mankind at large, there will open the year of 5689 of the Jewish calendar.

Far back in the earliest times, the Hebrew New Year began in Autumn with the opening of the agricultural year of the Jewish people in Palestine—a system adopted by all Semitic peoples. From ancient times on, the beginning of the economic year was celebrated in some special way. On this day there was to be a holy convocaton of the people, trumpets were to be blown, and specal sacrifices were to be offered at the altar of the Jerusalem Temple. Though the Bible refers to this day as "the memorial of blowing of trumpets" and "the day of the blowing of trumpets," yet it was evidently regarded as the New Year of the agricultural cycle by the Jewish people at a very early date.

But with the gradual growth of the Jewish people following their dispersion, New Year's Day assumed a new meaning and a higher value in Jewish life. In Rabbinic literature this holiday is regarded as the commemoration of the beginning of the creation of the world. It is the day upon which all the creatures of the world pass for judgment before the Creator, even as sheep pass before the shepherd. This idea of New Year as the great day of judgment gave rise to a beautiful and elaborate ritual throughout the middle ages. It fashioned this holiday into a solemn occasion upon which every Jew is to reawaken within himself his loyalty to the teachings of Judaism. And, finally, it was emphasized that the New Year is a day for self-examination and reflection upon the past deeds —a day upon which man searches the inner recesses of his heart and sincerely resolves to turn from all misdeeds of the past year. This idea runs through almost every prayer of the Reform Jewish ritual for the day.

The Shofar, or ram's horn, is still blown in the synagogue today. Its purpose is to stir the heart of man and awaken him to the spirit of the solemn day; it is to remind him of his responsibilities to his fellow men and of his obligations to God.

MEALS FOR FIVE CENTS

MONTREAL, Sept. 13.—A good meal for five cents. Not even in pre-war days could this have been imagined. Nevertheless, believe it or not, a cafeteria has opened here where a full meal was served at this price. It was in the Plateau Academy, and a chairman, Victor Dore, of the Catholic Corporation, gave the first order. He was followed by a few officials and by the bulk of the students of the seventh and eighth grades. Soup, sandwiches, meat pie and coffee figured on the bill of fare.

A sweet young thing at the show the other evening insisted on repeating each joke aloud, to the discomfiture of her escort and the mild annoyance of the people seated nearby. The worm was bound to turn, and did, after one of the characters had remarked, "I think the weaker sex is often the stronger sex, because of the weakness of the stronger sex for the weaker sex."

"There," said the sweet young thing's boy friend grimly and through clenched teeth, "repeat that one."
